This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

Universalist Register, 1884.

The purpose of this publication is to furnish as accurate and complete an exhibit of the condition of the Universalist Church as is possible under the limitations imposed. In our endeavor to obtain reliable information for the present number, a circular of enquiry accompanied by a prepaid envelope for its return was sent to each Universalist minister in fellowship. Responses were received from about four-fifths of the number thus addressed. The statements so obtained constitute the basis of the statistical tables. The Returns of Secretaries of State Conventions to the Secretary of the General Convention have also been referred to, and this source of supply has been drawn from in many cases where direct reports were wanting. Several friends in different sections of the country have likewise rendered a special service in communicating facts and figures helpful to our work. Thus assisted we have sought to make this forty-ninth issue of the REGISTER fulfill the uses for which such a publication is designed, and so deserve the favor of the denomination. With all the care taken there will of course be mistakes in a work like this,—for these we crave a kind indulgence.

The information given in the following pages is presented in a form that will for the most part, we think, be readily understood. It should be remembered that a preacher's name placed in line with a parish in the table of statistics does not necessarily show that his post-office address is at the locality so designated. To find the post-office address reference should be had to the alphabetical list. Under the head of "Church edifices," in the column marked "values," the figures given are intended to show the amount of property after deducting indebtedness.

The greater care now generally taken in gathering statistics will explain some slight decrease in the figures given in several of the exhibits. We are confident that there has been no real loss, but only a more rigid scrutiny or a different standard of determination. By a careful examination of nearly five hundred reports received, we have reached the conclusion that the year just ending has been one of more than ordinary activity and accomplishment in our Communion. Twenty-five church edifices have been dedicated, the aggregate cost of which was about $250,000; about $100,000 of church indebtedness has been paid; while the amount raised by parishes for current expenses has not fallen below the sum so expended in any former year. The contributions and bequests of the year for Church extension and missionary work are estimated at $75,000, while at least $250,000 have been added to the endowment of our educational institutions. There is abundant cause for thankfulness and encouragement.

Universalist Register for 1884.

The Universalist Church.

Its system of ecclesiastical organization and government includes Parishes, State Conventions, and the General Convention.

The primary organization is the Parish, composed of persons who unite for religious improvement and the support of public worship in any given locality. The parish manages its own financial interests, and may call or dismiss a pastor at will. It acknowledges allegiance, however, to both the State and General Conventions, and is bound to observe the laws they enact. Every parish in fellowship is entitled to representation in the State Convention.

A State Convention exercises authority in its jurisdiction, in conformity with the rules and limitations prescribed by the General Convention. No State Convention can be formed without a constituency of at least four parishes. When thus regularly constituted, it represents the Universalist people and parishes of a specified territory, who assemble by delegates in annual session to act upon the various matters of denominational concern. It is composed of all Universalist clergymen in fellowship, residing within its jurisdiction ; of its officers, and lay delegates from the parishes in its fellowship.

The General Convention has jurisdiction over all Universalist clergymen and State Conventions. It is composed of the Presidents (or, in their absence, the Vice-Presidents) and Secretaries of the several State Conventions, together with clerical and lay delegates from these

Its work in this way has extended throughout the United States and Canada, and also to Scotland, Mexico, Central America, and Australia.

The Association supported a missionary in Scotland (Rev. Mrs. C. A. Soule) for four years.

Sarepta, Water Valley, Webster, Winona and other places, but these organizations are now in a dormant condition. A church of sixteen members was constituted at Vickland in 1881, and occasional preaching services have been held under its auspices.

There are in this State some ten or fifteen preaching stations, where occasional services are held under Universalist auspices. Oregon.

The State Convention, organized 1874, includes the ministers and churches in Oregon and Washington Territory. It meets at the call of the executive committee. President—Rev. A. J. Wigle; Vice-President—M. Edelman; Secretary—J. W. Wigle; Treasurer—A. Condra; Committee of Fellowship—Rev. E. A. McAlister, J. D. Wigle, Coquille City, Oregon, owns a church edifice worth $1,200. Rev. E. A. McAlister is preaching at this place.

Dayton, Washington Territory, also has a church edifice, but no regular preaching is maintained.

The First Universalist Church of Oregon, Linn County, has thirty-five members and maintains preaching a part of the time. Occasional preaching services are also held at several other points within the jurisdiction of the convention. Rev. A. J. Wigle supplies at several of these stations.

Many of the churches heretofore reported are now in a dormant condition, and there is great need of a better organization of Universalist believers within the limits of this Convention.

The Missionary work of the Universalist Church received due consideration. This subject was presented in the report of the Trustees, and a special committee, to whom their report was referred, submitted the following, which received the unanimous endorsement of the Convention:

In regard to the Missionary work of the Church, we heartily approve the suggestion in respect to securing funds for that work. Recognizing the fact that denominations as well as men are judged by their fruits, and that the Church grows in proportion to its efforts for the dissemination of truth; recalling also the fact that the first missionary efforts known to the Church were made by those of our faith, such as Origen or his compeers, we earnestly urge upon the Convention, and through it upon our Church, a more earnest consideration and support of our missionary work: First in the many opening fields of the South and of the great West, where so much new territory is being rapidly populated, and where results from the work may be speedily expected. Second, in foreign fields. We refer with gratitude to the example of Miss Gage, of New York, in her bequest of over $37,000 to the missionary work of that State, and suggest it a worthy of emulation. If some equally able brother or sister should in like manner contribute towards the establishment of a Foreign Missionary enterprise, the glorious work of carrying the gospel of great joy to foreign lands could be speedily entered upon. The assurance of the Trustees that "they will gratefully receive and carefully administer any funds entrusted to them for the purpose," ought to incite our people to give for this work.

Candidates must bring testimonials as to character, and avow their purpose to devote their lives to the Christian ministry. Bachelors of Art are admitted without examination. Other candidates are examined in the branches usually taught in the best High Schools and Academies. The full collegiate course, as preliminary, is recommended to those who contemplate theological studies ; but, since the circumstances of many earnest and capable men forbid so extensive preparation, a four years' theological course has been provided. This course permits the introduction of branches not strictly professional, and yet of a fundamental character, and of the highest disciplinary value. It is the policy of the school to encourage the judicious use of the important facilities which the proximity of the College to an intellectual centre like Boston, affords—libraries, cabinets, lectures, the teachings and methods of the most noted preachers of New England.

The degree of D.B. is conferred upon those who take the full course, which occupies three years for A. B.'s and four years for others.

The necessary expenses will not exceed $200 a year. Tuition, room-rent, use of furniture, free. Students may add to their resources by preaching during the year and a half previous to graduation. The General Convention of Universalists aids students by a system of loans.

Necrology.

Twenty-five Universalist clergymen have died during the year, viz: Simon T. Aldrich, William G. Anderson, John B. Baldwin, Eli Ballou, D. D., Joseph Barber, Alexander Bosserman, Jacob Chase, John D. Cargill, William E. Copeland, Alvin Dinsmore, Timothy C. Eaton, Thomas G. Farnsworth, Jerome Harris, Fordyce Hitchcock, Timothy F. Jones, Joseph W. Keyes, Clement F. LeFevre, D. D., Moses Marston, Ph.D., E. R. Ottoway, Jackson Stebbins, Zenas Thompson, Charles P. West, Edgar M. Whitney, Enos R. Wood, William B. Woodbury. The limits of this publication will allow only a brief mention of these departed brethren.

Simon Taylor Aldrich, of Batavia, N. Y., died June 16, 1883, aged 57 years. Mr. A. was ordained in the Congregational communion; but in 1860 was received into the Universalist ministry. He was an earnest and devoted preacher, aud his everyday life well illustrated the faith he inculcated and the purity of the precepts he enforced.

William Gay Anderson, of North Gage, N. Y., died April 27, 1883, aged 72 years. Born in Scotland, he was educated in the doctrines and traditions of the Kirk, but became a Universalist in 1837, and entered our ministry in 1838. He was a good man, and a successful preacher.

John Buell Baldwin, of Sharon, Vt., died January 28, 1883, in the fortieth year of his age. By reason of physical limitations he was unable to be actively interested in the ministry. He had good mental gifts and acquisitions, and a strong regard for the faith he cherished.

Eli Ballou, D. D., of Bethel, Vt., died March 10, 1883, aged 74 years. He was ordained in 1832, and he was in active and continuous service as a Universalist minister for more than a half century. For thirty years he was connected with the Universalist press as editor. It has well been said that "few persons have wielded so wide and happy an influence as he." "The whole church mourns his death."

JOSEPH BARBER, M. D., of Alstead, N. H., died August 27, 1883, aged 82 years. He was ordained in 1833. Dr. Barber was a man of fine gifts and culture. He preached in New York, Vermont, Massachusetts and New Hampshire, and continued in active service until he was 74. His faith was firm, as his life was Christian.

ALEXANDER BOSSERMAN, of Bethel, Maine, died December 9, 1882, at the age of about 70 years. He was ordained a Lutheran clergyman, but was for thirty years an active, able, devout member of our ministry. He has been aptly described as "a true man and Christian, who was an honor to our cause, and a comfort and joy to those to whom he ministered."

JOHN D. CARGILL, of Brewton, Ala., died September 25, 1883. He was nearly 60 years of age. He was a sincere and devoted minister, and an able exponent of Christian doctrines. He died rejoicing in the faith which he had preached for many years.

JACOB CHASE, of Fairport, N. Y., died January 3, 1883, aged 86 years. He commenced preaching in 1828, and was ordained in 1832. He was connected with our denominational press for a number of years, while actively engaged in ministerial labor. During the later years of his life, on account of physical limitations, he was not actively engaged in the ministry. He was "loyal to his faith" to the last, and "sustained to the end."

WILLIAM EDWARD COPELAND, died July —, 1883, aged about 45 years. Mr. C. was a private in the Union army during the late war, and actively engaged in a number of its hardest-fought battles. He was severely wounded, from the effects of which he suffered during the remainder of his life. He was ordained to our ministry in 1876, and performed pastoral service in Vermont, and lastly in Hightstown, N. J., where he died. Mr. C. was eminently respected and beloved for his consecration and Christian virtue.

ALVIN DINSMORE, of DeWitt, Iowa, died November 10, 1883, in the 81st year of his age. He was ordained to the Universalist ministry in 1823, and at the time of his death he was the senior clergyman of our church in respect to ministerial service. He was active and influential in the church, and in the departments of education and reform. His was a noble, unselfish life, and his long and useful career was inspired by the loftiest motives.

TIMOTHY C. EATON, of Minneapolis, Kan., died in East Oakland, Cal., June 28, 1883, aged 73 years. "He was in all things a pattern of Christian rectitude, and he was thoroughly reverent and devout; sincerity, frankness and fidelity embodied." Mr. Eaton's ministry was wide and successful.

THOMAS G. FARNSWORTH, of Waltham, Mass., died May 21, 1883, aged 85 years. He was ordained in 1822, and the senior of our ministry at the time of his death. Physical infirmities had for many years kept him from the active duties of his profession; but his love for our church and faith never wavered. He had the esteem and love of all who knew him.

JEROME HARRIS, of Stockton, Me., died January 30, 1883, aged 66 years. He was ordained in 1839, and until 1870 continued to be actively engaged in the pastoral office. For twenty-five years he was pastor of the church in Stockton. There was no other church and no other minister in the town: "a town where no liquor was sold, where there was not a drunkard, where there were no crimes, and where there were no indigent poor." His life was a fit illustration of his Christian faith.

FORDYCE HITCHCOCK, of Newark, N. J., died August 31, 1883, aged about 70 years. He was ordained in 1834, but for a number of years was engaged in secular life. The ministry, however, was never out of his heart and sympathy. He was "a good and true man, a sincere and devout Christian." He was a faithful and trusted leader in our church, for whose prosperity he ever manifested an ardent zeal.

TIMOTHY FAUSTUS JONES, of Big Run, Athens Co., O., died July 31, 1883, aged 69 years. He was ordained in 1867, although he began to preach many years before. A parishioner says, "Father Jones was a self-made and self-educated man, of great natural abilities, and one of the most conscientious and faithful ministers I ever knew."

JOSEPH WILLARD KEYES, of Dunstable, Mass., died at Warren, R. I., March 31, 1883, aged 42 years. He was ordained in 1864. He had mental gifts and acquisitions of no inconsiderable order. He had intense aspirations for large accomplishments in the way of noble service for his church and faith. He was a preacher of more than ordinary ability, and his influence was extensive. His memory is tenderly cherished by his friends and parishoners.

CLEMENT FALL LE FEVRE, D. D., of Milwaukee, Wis., died December 12, 1882, aged 85 years. Dr. Le Fevre was ordained in 1821, as a presbyter of the Church of England, and placed over the parish at Sherbrook, Canada. Here he was eminently successful; but having become drawn to the Universalist faith, against all the prejudices of his education and all dictates of interest, he entered its ministry in 1829. For many years he was a beloved and honored pastor, a part of the time connected with the denominational press. In the latter years of his life he had retired from the active duties of his profession; but his faith remained strong to the last, and he ever cherished a fond desire for the prosperity of that branch of the Church with which he had so long been connected.

MOSES MARSTON, Ph. D., of Minneapolis, Minn., died July 11, 1883, aged 51 years. He was ordained in 1859, and administered the pastoral office for a few years in Vermont and Northern New York; but in 1868 he accepted a professorship in St. Lawrence University, which he relinquished in 1873, on account of the failure of his health. He then went West, regained his health, and for nine years was one of the faculty of the University of Minnesota. He was an accomplished scholar, a ripe teacher, an able and influential minister. Our church and the cause of education suffer a great loss by the death of a man possessed of large abilities and of consecrated purposes.

E. R. OTTOWAY, of Rochester, N. Y., died April 29, 1883, aged 65 years. Engaged largely in secular pursuits, he preached for many years, as occasion served, but was not ordained until February last, some two months before his death. He was greatly esteemed and fondly loved. His life was noble, unselfish and useful. He was an able advocate of the Universalist faith.

JACKSON STEBBINS, of Des Moines, Iowa, died October 20, 1882, aged 67 years. Mr. Stebbins was ordained in 1846. His first ministry was in the East; but for a number of years he resided in the West, employed in ministerial service. He was a patient, faithful, consecrated man, who did the work possible for him in the spirit of the Christian.

ZENAS THOMPSON, of Deering, Me., died November 17, 1882, aged 78 years. He was ordained in 1829. Mr. Thompson "did eminent service in leading our people forward and upward to higher views of the Christian faith, and diviner motives to the Christian life." He was a man of strong mind, upright character, and a faithful worker for the truth. He has an abiding memory in the hearts of thousands by whom he was known and loved.

CHARLES PRINCE WEST, of Anita, Iowa, died October 6, 1883. He was ordained in 1842. He was a pioneer of our faith in Western States; but is best known for his untiring labors in the establishment of Lombard University. He was highly respected and widely beloved.

EDGAR MORTIMER WHITNEY, of Morris, N. Y., died May 14, 1883, aged 54 years. He was ordained in 1859. He was a man of great ability and industry. He was employed the last few months of his life in work under the auspices of the State Temperance Alliance of New York.

ENOS R. WOOD, of Denver, Col., died July 23, 1883, aged 61 years. Mr. Wood was ordained in 1846, and did pastoral work principally in Ohio and Iowa. In the latter years of his life, however, he was largely engaged in secular business. Regarding this, the secular press testifies: "In all his dealings he displayed and exemplified those principles of honor and uprightness which for many years he had eloquently preached from the pulpit."

WILLIAM B. WOODBURY, of Granville, O., died December 3, 1882, aged 57 years. He had been engaged in the ministry for twenty-five years, although not ordained until 1860. His work was all done in Central Ohio, with faithfulness and love. He was one of the most saintly of men, and abundantly illustrated the Christian graces in his life. His painful illness of twenty months was borne with patience, resignation and faith.

[We are indebted to the published report accompanying the Minutes of the Universalist General Convention, of 1883, for many of the foregoing statements.—ED.]

Convention Aid to Theological Students.

The Universalist General Convention appropriates each year a certain amount to assist worthy young men, who may desire to enter the ministry of the Universalist Church, after a course of study in one of our theological schools. This aid is given, when needed, through the Trustees of the General Convention, and on the terms and conditions herewith indicated :—

I. He must well sustain an examination in the following branches of learning: Rhetoric, Mental and Moral Science, and English Prose Composition. It is desirable, also, that he be acquainted with the Greek of the New Testament and with Logic. He shall make declaration of his desire and purpose to devote his life to the ministry of the Universalist Church, and affirm his acceptance of the Winchester Profession of Faith. It is only in view of such a desire and purpose that he is aided.

II. Each beneficiary shall give his obligation to repay the sums received by him in five annual instalments, without interest, dating from his graduation. In case only a small amount is loaned, the Trustees may fix the time of payment otherwise. He shall also agree to repay, with interest, all moneys received from the Board, in case he fails to enter or continue in the Universalist ministry, or withdraws from study before the completion of the course, unless such failure or withdrawal be through no fault on his part. Such endorsements or securities for his faithful compliance with these rules shall be given, as shall be satisfactory to the Board.

III. The Committee of the Board of Trustees may discontinue aid to any student when, for any reason, it may seem doubtful that he will be useful in the ministry.

IV. The appropriation for each beneficiary shall not exceed $180 per year, dependent upon the sums voted for Scholarships by the General Convention, and also upon the conditions and needs of the beneficiary, as these shall become evident from time to time. This appropriation shall be payable on drafts regularly drawn by the student on the Secretary, and approved by the President or Principal of the school; one-third in November, one-third in February, and one-third in May of each year.

Days of Special Observance.

Recommendations by the Universalist General Convention.

1. It is recommended that Christmas Sunday be observed by appropriate services.

2. It is recommended that on Easter Sunday a service of Recognition be held, at which time persons baptized in childhood, and others, may be welcomed by suitable rites to membership of the Church.

3. It is recommended that one Sunday be set apart in each year, to be denominated Children's Sunday,—in all cases, where practicable, the second Sunday in June, or as near thereto as possible; and that parents and guardians be encouraged and invited to bring their children to the altar on that day for baptism or dedication to the service of the Lord.

4. It is recommended that the first Sunday of October, in each year, be set apart as Memorial Sunday, for commemorating those friends who, during the year, have been taken away by death.

5. It is recommended that the first Sunday of November, in each year, be set apart as All-Souls Sunday, for a special celebration of our distinguishing doctrine, the Scriptural truth that all souls are God's children, and that finally, by His grace attending them, they will all be saved from the power of sin, and will live and reign with Him forever in holiness and happiness.

6. It is recommended that the third Sunday of May, in each year, be set apart as Educational Sunday, for the presentation to the people of the educational interests of our Church.

The Universalist Creed.

ARTICLE I. We believe that the Holy Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments contain a revelation of the character of God, and of the duty, interest and final destination of mankind.

ART. II. We believe that there is one God, whose nature is love, revealed in one Lord Jesus Christ, by one Holy Spirit of Grace, who will finally restore the whole family of mankind to holiness and happiness.

ART. III. We believe that holiness and true happiness are inseparably connected, and believers ought to be careful to maintain order, and practice good works; for these things are good and profitable unto men.

This Profession of Faith was adopted by Universalist believers assembled in Convention at Winchester, N. H., A. D. 1803. It has served and still continues to serve an excellent purpose, expressing as it does in few words the fundamental beliefs of the Universalist Church. It is not to be regarded, however, as a full or adequate presentation of Christianity. Many doctrines not herein set forth some of which are held in common with our brethren of other sects, are preached from Universalist pulpits and given due importance in the unfolding of God's Word. The Winchester Profession is but the accepted symbol of our Communion—the basis of fellowship in our churches and denomination.

UNIVERSALIST REGISTER, 1885.

The following pages, including statistical tables from every State in the Union where we have an ecclesiastical organization, are intended to give as complete and accurate an account of the numerical and organized strength of the Universalist Church as is possible to obtain with the means at hand. Coming to the editorship not until August, the facts that belong to the former part of the year may be somewhat defective. We have appealed through the denominational press, to the clergymen, to send us notice of any changes of residence and post-office address, and by circulars to the secretaries of State Conventions and public institutions to send us corrected returns, as these ought, and must be, the official sources of the information sought. All the State secretaries have cheerfully responded, and the responsibility of the accuracy of State statistics rests with them. As the recognized organs of our conventional bodies, they are the proper authorities to look to for all matters pertaining to the condition and progress of the Church in their respective localities. The Register can be made as complete for each State, and for all, as these competent officials desire to have it. All the parishes should report through the clerical head of their State, and he to the editor.

Clergymen are not as prompt in reporting personal changes. They desire to have their location and post-office given in the alphabetical list, but a large proportion of them leave the editor to find out about their movements as best he may, but are very prompt to address him when they find themselves reported inaccurately. A correct alphabetical list of all the clergymen in the Universalist Church is a great convenience. Let each one remember and give report of the facts pertaining to himself, and the list will be perfect.

In the information given in this number we have followed the form as given by our predecessors; consequently there will be no difficulty in understanding it. The post-office address will be found in the alphabetical list, the place or places of labor in the State or Territorial tables.

In the general summary there is reported a slight decrease in some items, but an increase in others. The actual count generally falls short of the former rough estimate. In Sunday-school children, and in church property, there has been an increase. In church extension and missionary zeal a revived interest is manifest. From official reports we feel quite sure that the past year has added much to our numerical and pecuniary strength. The growth and spread of liberal sentiment and a rational theology cannot be given in statistical exhibit.

Our Educational Institutions are all in a flourishing condition, most of them well endowed, and all of them report an increased patronage during the year. We certainly have great cause for thankfulness and every encouragement for continued and hopeful labor.

Universalist Register for 1885.

The Universalist Church.

Its system of ecclesiastical organization and government includes Parishes, State Conventions, and the General Convention.

The primary organization is the Parish, composed of persons who unite for religious improvement and the support of public worship in any given locality. The Parish manages its own financial interests, and may call or dismiss a pastor at will. It acknowleges allegiance, however, to both the State and General Conventions, and is bound to observe the laws they enact. Every parish in fellowship is entitled to representation in the State Convention.

A State Convention exercises authority in its jurisdiction, in conformity with the rules and limitations prescribed by the General Convention. No State Convention can be formed without a constituency of at least four parishes. When thus regularly constituted, it represents the Universalist people and parishes of a specified territory, who assemble by delegates in annual session to act upon the various matters of denominational concern. It is composed of all Universalist clergymen in fellowship, residing within its jurisdiction; of its officers, and lay delegates from the parishes in its fellowship.

The General Convention has jurisdiction over all Universalist clergymen, Parishes, and State Conventions. It is composed of the Presidents (or, in their absence, the Vice-Presidents) and Secretaries of the several State Conventions, together with clerical and lay delegates from these Conventions, as follows: "Each State Convention shall be entitled to one clerical and two lay delegates; or, having an aggregate of fifty parishes and clergymen, to two clerical and four lay delegates; and for every additional twenty-five parishes and clergymen, to one clerical and two lay delegates. If there be organized Universalist parishes in any State or Territory which has no Convention, they may unite and choose one delegate; and if there be but one such parish it shall likewise be entitled to one delegate."

The General Convention was incorporated March 9, 1866, and empowered to hold real and personal estate to the value of five hundred thousand dollars, to be devoted exclusively to the diffusion of Christian knowledge by means of missionaries, publications, and other agencies. For the accomplishment of this work the convention holds in trust, by its Board of Trustees, the Murray Centenary Fund, amounting to $124,587.38, the income of which is used to aid in the education of theological students, the circulation of denominational literature, and in church extension and missionary endeavors. Parish collections made annually, and missionary-box receipts, add to the Convention revenues, and enable it it to perform its work.

The Convention also has a Theological Scholarship Fund amounting to $20,721.44, the income of which is specially set apart for loans to theological students. This fund is constantly increasing, as all repayments of scholarship loans are added to it.

The John G. Gunn Ministerial Relief Fund, amounting to $9,977,40, is likewise held in trust by the Convention. the income of the fund being devoted, within certain restrictions, to the relief of Universalist clergymen in need, and the families of deceased clergymen left in destitute circumstances.

The Universalist General Convention exercises ecclesiastical authority throughout the United States and Canada. It is the court of final appeal in cases of dispute between State Conventions, and in all cases of discipline not provided for and settled by subordinate bodies. It has original jurisdiction in States and Territories where no Conventions are organized. Annual sessions are held, beginning on the Wednesday preceding the fourth Sunday in October. Its officers consist of a President, Vice-President, Secretary, Treasurer, and a Board of Trustees, consisting of eleven members, the Secretary of the Convention being a member ex officio. Five members are chosen biennial to hold office four years. To these trustees is committed the general administration of the Convention interests. The present organization of the Convention is as follows: —

STATISTICS.

IN THE FOLLOWING CLASSIFICATION BY STATES AND TERRITORIES A TABULAR EXHIBIT OF UNIVERSALIST PARISHES, CHURCHES AND SUNDAY-SCHOOLS IS SHOWN. INFORMATION RESPECTING STATE CONVENTIONS IS ALSO GIVEN.

[The location of parishes according to post-office address is shown in the first column; where a fraction appears after the name of a parish it indicates that preaching services are held part of the time; (oc.) denotes that there is only occasional preaching; (dor.) that the Society is inactive. The number of families included in the respective parishes is given under the proper heading. The date of organization both of Churches and Sunday-schools is indicated in separate columns, with the membership of each organization. Under the head of "Church Edifices," the date of dedication is given when known. Un denotes that the parish is part owner in a union house of worship; the abbreviations br. (brick), st. (stone), w. (wood), indicate the material of the structure; prop. shows that the parish holds other property besides a church edifice. Under the head of "Values" appears the amount of all property after deducting indebtedness. In the column designated "Preachers" the names of pastors or regular supplies are given. If the name is in italics the preacher is a licentiate; parallels (||) show that he is not in the Universalist fellowship.]

The statistics are taken from the official reports of the several State Convention Secretaries. In some few instances pastors have reported direct to the editor, but the State Secretary is the proper person to receive all local reports. In new States and Territories, we depend upon missionaries, and any information we can get.

There are but few Universalist organizations in this State. Parishes have been reported in former years at Sarepta, Water Valley, Webster, Winona and other places, but these organizations are now in a dormant condition. A church of sixteen members was constituted at Vickland in 1881, and occasional preaching services have been held under its auspices.

North Carolina.

There are in this State some ten or fifteen preaching stations, where occasional services are held under Universalist auspices. A church, organized 1877, is reported at Feasterville, Fairfield County. It has thirty-five members and a Sunday school of thirty. Rev. D. B. Clayton, of Columbia, preaches in different parts of the State.

Tennessee.

Dr. Wm. Hale, a lay preacher of Free Hill, Washington County, does missionary work throughout the State, distributing tracts and other Universalist literature. A church of fifteen members was organized in 1880 at Free Hill, where Dr. Hale preaches one-fourth of the time. There are church edifices both at Glimpsville and Free Hill, owned in part by Universalists.

Texas.

There are several parishes, church organizations and preachers in Texas, but as yet in an unorganized condition. Rev. James Billings as missionary of the State, is doing a good deal to bring the cause into a united and working order. He reports as follows for the present year: —

VIRGINIA.

A church edifice owned by Universalists at Richmond is valued at $10,000.

WEST VIRGINIA.

In West Virginia there is some Universalist sentiment, and a desire to hear the doctrine taught. The State was visited last year by Rev. Q. H. Shinn of New Hampshire who held several public meetings, and he reports quite an interest on the part of the people to hear the word, as he had opportunity to proclaim it. A good, able missionary could soon open places for preaching, and find sufficient labor to more than occupy his time. A church at Fort Ridge, organized in 1867, has fifty members, a gain of twelve during the last year. A Sunday school has recently been instituted. The church edifice is valued at $2,000. Rev. S. P. Carlton preaches in this place at regular intervals. He also preaches occasionally at Weston, where several Universalist families reside. The society at Shinnston is reported as dormant. Rev. G. L. SCOTLAND.

The Universalists of Scotland, in 1875, organized a Convention which meets annually. It is a small body composed of only two churches, — the one in Glasgow and the one in Larbut. The Glasgow church has one hundred and twenty members. A Sunday school of sixty members is connected with the church. The Woman's Centenary Association has given generous support to the Scottish Mission. There is much unorganized Universalism in Scotland, and there are several preaching stations where occasional services are held. The officers of the Scotland Convention are as follows: President — Robert Wallace; Vice-President — Andrew Ure; Secretary — Charles F. Jameson, Glasgow; Treasurer — John McBride; Trustees — T. Roughead; R. Binny, James Smith, Wm. Wallace and Robert Benson.

[This list includes ministers in fellowship, either directly with the General Convention or with a Universalist State Convention. The names of licentiates are in italics. The date prefixed is the year of ordination unless F (fellowshipped), or L (licensed), is also prefixed. A dagger (†) prefixed denotes superannuated; a double dagger (‡) thus prefixed indicates that the person is not actively engaged in ministerial work.]

The Missionary work of the Universalist Church received due consideration. This subject was presented in the report of the Trustees, and a special committee, to whom their report was referred, submitted the following, which received the endorsement of the Convention: —

In regard to the Missionary work of the Church we heartily approve the suggestion that the Convention commend to the thoughtful consideration of our parishes the plan of the petitioners for increasing our missionary funds, namely: to adopt regular collections at least once every Sunday, one-half to be retained for home use and the other half to be equally divided between the State and General Convention.

That we look with hope to the result of the inauguration of the Young People's Missionary Associations, and earnestly urge on all our parishes the prompt adoption of this practical plan for utilizing the young people.

That the paragraph in the Report of the Executive Board referring to the numerous points in the West and South where substantial results might be secured by the judicious outlay of comparatively small sums, arrests our attention and renews our regrets that the means for missionary operations are so inadequate. We recommend that the Board use such means as it may have for this desirable object, and we plead with our parishes and people to adopt and use the new methods herein recommended for increasing missionary revenues, that these many and urgent opportunities to extend our saving faith may be embraced.

Candidates must bring testimonials as to character, and avow their purpose to devote their lives to the Christian ministry. Bachelors of Art are admitted without examination. Other candidates are examined in the branches usually taught in the best High Schools and Academies. The full collegiate course, as preliminary, is recommended to those who contemplate theological studies; but, since the circumstances of many earnest and capable men forbid so extensive preparation, a four years' theological course has been provided. This course permits the introduction of branches not strictly professional, and yet of a fundamental character, and of the highest disciplinary value. It is the policy of the school to encourage the judicious use of the important facilities which the proximity of the College to an intellectual centre like Boston affords — libraries, cabinets, lectures, the teachings and methods of the most noted preachers of New England.

The degree of D.B. is conferred upon those who take the full course, which occupies three years for A.B.'s and four years for others.

The necessary expenses will not exceed $200 a year. Tuition, room-rent, use of furniture, free. Students may add to their resources by preaching during the year and a half previous to graduation. The General Convention of Universalists aids students by a system of loans.

Students completing one of the partial courses will receive a certificate of actual attainments in the studies pursued.

Those completing the full course will receive the degree of B.D.

All departments of the University are open to Students of Theology without charge. The only expense is for board and books, which may be so reduced by beneficiary funds as to place the advantages of the Theological School within the reach of all who desire them.

The above table shows a gain in the number of instructors and students over last year. The contributions made during the year toward the endowment and relief of the several institutions have been small, owing to the general depression in business. But what is better than money, there has been quite an increase of students, many more than reported in the above table, as the increase of the fall terms is not given, with one or two exceptions.

NECROLOGY.

CORNELIUS ARBOGAST of Shelby County, Ohio, died Nov. 4, 1883, aged 82. Rev. G. L. Demorest, D.D., says of him :— "He was a native of Virginia, but removed to Ohio in his boyhood. He was ordained to the Universalist ministry in 1844, but served the Church rather as an evangelist than as a pastor. He was upright in all the relations of life, and was honored by his neighbors with many useful trusts. 'He quietly and peacefully passed away to his Creator and Father, whom he had faithfully served so long.' "

ALVAN DINSMORE of Woodland, Cal., died at De Witt, Iowa, Nov. 9, 1883, aged 81. He was born in Scarboro', Me., Jan. 24, 1803, and entered the ministry at the age of 20. in 1823. During his ministry of forty years he had eight settlements, covering the wide field of Maine, New Hampshire, New York, Ohio, Illinois and Iowa. He was reputed a good classical scholar, and learned in the scriptures. He was a successful teacher in Westbrook Seminary, Me., and afterwards was for some years at the head of the Academy at Morrisville, N. Y.; then at Cleveland and Sharon Centre, Ohio. He moved to Illinios in 1847, and took a farm, but was afterwards induced to return to Sharon Centre for a second pastorate. In 1856 he took up farming again in Clinton County, Iowa. But whether teaching or farming he retained the same active interest in the cause and Church to which he gave himself in early life. In 1866, owing to feeble health. he retired from active labor, spending his latter days in California, till he finally closed his earthly career at De Witt, Iowa, in the home of his son-in-law. He is spoken of by the older ministers as a man of learning and piety, with a reputation and character without reproach. His name is held in honorable remembrance.

C. C. GORDON, one of the oldest clergymen of our order in New York, died in Brooklyn, December 2, at the age of 77. He was a native of New Hampshire, born at Salem, N. H., in 1807. He received his early education in the Boston Latin School. In 1837 he was ordained in Stafford, Conn. He had pastoral settlements in Mt. Vernon, N. Y., South Danvers, Mass. and Nunda, N. Y. In 1860 he retired from ministerial labor, his failing health requiring the change. He made Brooklyn his home until his death, and the most of the time of his residence there was in secular business, being secretary of the Architectural Iron Works, and for a time president of the Philadelphia Car Co. He had a very active mind, was an excellent mathematician, of a fine nervous temperament, very social, and an excellent companion. He was a most exemplary Christian man.

George W. Quinby, D.D., of Augusta, Me., died, Jan. 10, 1884. He was born in Saccarappa, Me., Dec. 20, 1811, and at the time of his death was a little more than 73 years of age. He received a common school and academic education. He prepared for the ministry under the instruction of Rev. Zenas Thompson, and commenced to preach at Poland, Me., in 1835. He was ordained at Livermore in 1837. He held pastorates in Maine and Massachusetts for a number of years, and in 1851 was settled over the First Universalist Church at Cincinnati, Ohio. He soon after purchased "The Star in the West," which he edited till 1857 and thus commenced his long service of more than thirty years as editor and publisher. After closing his pastorate in Cincinnati he removed to Maine, and was afterwards pastor of our churches in Middletown, Conn. and Taunton and Melrose, Mass. In 1862, while preaching at the latter place, he purchased, in connection with Rev. James M. Usher, the "Trumpet and Freeman," with which he was connected for two years. In 1864 Dr. Quinby removed to Augusta, Me., and purchased the "Gospel Banner," which he edited and published until within a few months of his death.

Dr. Quinby's literary work was not confined to the pulpit or his paper. He was the author of several books, all of which have had a large sale. His "Gallows, Prison and Poorhouse," was published in 1856. His "Salvation of Christ" has passed through twenty-seven editions. His last and best book, "Heaven Our Home," was published in 1876 and has already reached its eighth edition. Dr. Quinby was also the author of an excellent book on the "Marriage Relation."

As a writer and preacher, Dr. Quinby's work was characterized by strength and sincerity. In theology he was of the Father Ballou type of thought. He was a man of large and tender sympathies, a kind friend, a social companion. and of commanding presence before an audience. His record is a noble one as a man, and as a Christian minister.

TIMOTHY B. POOL, died at Mt. Carmel, Ky., in January, 1884, aged 80 years. He was born in 1804; ordained in 1866. He was a physician by profession, and for many years had quite a large and active practice; but in early manhood he became a convert to Universalism, organized a church at Mt. Carmel, and was an active member of it. His education and Bible studies rendered him an acceptable preacher long before he thought of being ordained. He never was settled over any parish, but did such ministerial work as came in his way, not interfering too much with his medical labor. He is spoken of as a man of a devotional temperament, and preached with an unction that stirred the feelings of his hearers. His character was pure, and his nature generous and kind. He was deeply devoted to the faith and principles of our Church.

L. J. FLETCHER, D.D., died Sunday, Jan. 20, 1884, at Franklin, at the age of 66 years. He was ordained in 1843. His first pastorate was in Brattleboro', Vt.; before which he had been a teacher in West Swanzey Academy, N. H., during which time he regularly preached in the vicinity. In 1846 he was called to Cambridgeport; thence to Lowell in 1848. His other pastorates were in Bath, Gardner, Me., Grand Rapids, Mich., Buffalo, Fort Plain, N. Y., and in 1881 he was called to Franklin, Mass., where he died. He was a trustee of Dean Academy, and at the time of his death was president of the board of directors. His interest in the cause of education was second only to that of his love for his religion. He was a worker in the Sunday school, a fine musician, and the author of a popular service book for Sunday schools; also of the "Gloria Patri" and some other musical works. He was a man of thought, and of chaste, vigorous expression, as a preacher. In executive ability, and as a pastor, he had few superiors. His sympathies were quick and strong, and he drew around him hosts of friends. His death is a severe loss to our ministry; for although somewhat along in years, his eye was undimmed and his natural force unabated. He was active, vigorous and progressive to the very close of his ministry. There were few public speakers, in the pulpit or on the platform, who could hold an audience better than Dr. Fletcher.

A Terre Haute (Ind.) paper notes the death of JAMES G. BURT. It says: "Rev James G. Burt, died February 13, at the residence of his daughter Mrs. Samuel McKeen, after a long, painful illness. By the death of this esteemed and venerable man we lose one more of the sterling characters whose lives and influence have affected this community only for good, whose lengthening days raised them in general esteem, and whose honest, consistent careers have secured as a heritage to their children an honored, good name."

Mr. Burt was born in Woodstock, Conn., July 21, 1809. He educated himself for the Universalist ministry, and preached for several years in New England. Forty-five years ago he removed to the then sparsely settled West, to take an active part in developing its religious and political life. While preaching, he assisted in editing a denominational paper. He was an early and outspoken abolitionist, warm in his sympathy with the Union cause, radical in many of his religious and political views, yet a kindly and charitable man. He was for some years pastor of the Universalist church in Terre Haute, but for a few years past had ceased to preach, and resided on his farm, a little out from the city, until, just before his death, he came to live with his daughter. He leaves two sons and one daughter.

SALMON C. BULKLEY, of Ridott, Ill., died February, 1884, aged 74. He was born in Colchester, Conn., Feb. 23, 1810. He was on a visit to Texas at the time of his death. A teacher in early life, he went from the school-house to the pulpit. He was ordained at Newark, N. J., Oct. 29, 1835. He first preached at Danbury, Conn. He was settled in New Market, N. H., in 1837; thence he went to Danvers, Mass., where he remained for three years. He afterwards became general missionary in New York City for three years, and editor of the "Christian Messenger"; when that paper was united with the "Magazine and Advocate," under the name of the "Christian Ambassador," Mr. Bulkley remained as editor, in connection with Rev. O. A. Skinner and W. S. Balch, D.D. In 1856 he went West and became the financial agent for Lombard University at Galesburg. He preached in Jonesville and La Crosse, Wis., and Wheaton and Napier, Ill. For several years past he lived in Ridott. He was a man of strong faith and earnest zeal, of ready wit, and mighty in the scriptures, holding no less than seven public discussions with prominent religious opponents, and in every instances doing credit to the cause he advocated. He was much beloved by his cotemporary brethren, and did valiant service for the "faith once delivered to the saints."

H. A. Merrell, of Fairfield, Ind., died in Mt. Dora, Fla., March 11, aged 32 years. About ten weeks before his death he went to Florida, for the benefit of his health; and for awhile he flattered himself that he was improving. He had much to live for, and a strong desire to get well, but Providence, ordering otherwise, he yielded submissively to nature's bidding, turning his face from the bright world, sustained and cheered by the hope of a brighter heaven. From the pen of his friend, Rev. W. C. Brooks, we learn the following facts of his life: —

H. A. Merrell was born in St. Lawrence Co., New York, on the fifteenth day of March, 1851. He was educated at St. Lawrence University, St. Lawrence Co., New York, and at the theological school. He graduated from the college in 1873, and from the theological school in 1876. He commenced preaching in the fall of the same year in Bloomfield, Can. His next settlement was at Conneautville, Penn.; then at Aurora, Ind.; then Chrisman, Ill.; then Lafayette, Ind.; and last in White Water Association, Fairfield, Ind. He was a young man of promising talents, and of pure character; and his early death inflicts a severe loss upon his friends, and the Universalist Church.

Aaron Burd Grosh was born near Litiz, Lancaster Co., Penn., May 22, 1803, and died in Towson, Md, March 27, 1884. He embraced Universalism in 1823, began preaching in 1829, and received letters of fellowship in September of that year. In 1830 he became assistant editor of the "Evangelical Magazine," published in Utica, N. Y. In 1835 he became part proprietor and chief editor of that paper. From 1839 to 1865, Mr. Grosh was editor of the "Universalist Register and Companion." His settlements as pastor were in Reading, Penn., Philadelphia, Fort Plain and Perry, N. Y. After his retirement from pastoral duties he employed his pen in writing in behalf of religion, temperance and Odd Fellowship. He was one of the founders of the "Patrons of Husbandry," and served for several years as chaplain of the National Grange. He was author of "The Odd Fellows' Manual," and "The Mentor in the Granges and Homes of Patrons of Husbandry." He was also a writer for several magazines and papers, being ever ready with both pen and voice to forward every good work. After the close of the war he engaged in secular business, filling various offices of trust and responsibility in Washington, D. C., still retaining his love for his Church and proving an efficient helper in the establishment of our cause in that city. We are indebted to Rev. Mr. Shrigley for the particulars of this brief sketch, who speaks of Mr. G. as "one of the ablest clergymen of our Church, and a perfect gentleman of the old school."

Silas S. Fletcher, died in Exeter, N. H., on the 29th of March, 1884, aged 66 years. He was ordained in 1842, and commenced the work of the ministry in Orland and Bucksport, Me., the same year. In 1844 he was called to New Bedford, Mass., where he remained as pastor two years. Thence he removed to Bridgeport, Conn., where he remained till 1848, when he became pastor of the church in Portsmouth, N. H. In 1852 he was called to Exeter, and was pastor of the society for two years, in connection with a stated supply at Kensington. Finding Exeter a good place for the education of his children, he made it his permanent home, continuing the supply at Kensington for several years, in connection with other clerical work in that locality. He had but few idle Sundays in the forty two years he was able to preach. He was an acceptable and earnest preacher, a close thinker, sound in theology, always expressing himself in terse, well-chosen rhetoric. He was highly respected in the community, and his death removes another of the strong and faithful men of our ministerial corps.

CHANCY W. KNICKERBACKER, died at Wayne, Mich., April 26, aged 60 years. He was born in New York, in Perrington, June 11, 1824, but removed early in life to Michigan. His first public labor was in teaching, and he preached his first sermon in the school-house in Wayne where he had been a teacher. He was ordained in 1850. His first settlement was in the town of Ray, Mich., from which field he was called, at the expiration of one year, to Lansing, the State capital, in 1852. In 1860 he returned to Wayne, and during the next ten years, labored in Wayne, Farmington, New Hudson, and Rochester. In 1870 he removed to Bay City, where he labored successfully for six years. Thence returning to Wayne, he made it his home until his death. For the last eight years he labored in various towns in the vicinity, preaching his last sermon in Concord, March 9, 1884. Rev. C. A. Knickerbacker of Spencer, Mass., is a son of the deceased. As a preacher Mr. Knickerbacker ranked high. His sermons were thoughtful, earnest, and eloquent. He was a man of fine presence. As a pastor he was very successful. Social and kindly in his feelings, he won friends among all classes. As a citizen, he was esteemed by all. His influence was an honor to his religion. His death, at so early an age, is a great loss to the Universalist church in the West.

LINUS PAINE, died at Friendship, N. Y., May 23, aged 80 years. He was born in Washington, N. H., Dec. 30, 1804, and was ordained in 1837. He is spoken of as a useful and faithful preacher, although no details of his settlements are given. Most of his ministerial labors were done in New York. His life was examplary, and his character above reproach. He belonged to the order of Odd Fellows.

ALVIN ABBOTT, died at Bradford, Ill., June 20, 1884, aged 71 years. Mr. Abbott was born in Paris, Me. He was brought up and educated in the Baptist faith. By study of the scriptures, and the exercise of reason, he became a believer in the salvation of all men. In 1840, in Sutton, Mass., he was ordained as a Christian minister, and remained in the fellowship of the Universalist denomination until the time of his death. He held pastorates in Sutton, Oxford, Spencer, Sandwich, Chatham, in Mass., and in Winchester, and Marlboro', N. H. In 1856 he moved to Illinois, where he was settled for a short time at Marseilles. He continued the active work of the ministry, preaching in vacant pulpits, and attending funerals till the close of his life. He is spoken of by those who knew him as an upright man and a faithful preacher.

JOHN E. DAVENPORT, departed this life in Providence, R. I., June 27, 1884, at the age of 63 years. He was born in Providence, March 10, 1821. Early in life he manifested an inclination for the ministry; and as soon as he had saved sufficient funds, he entered the school at Clinton, N. Y., then in charge of T. J. Sawyer, D.D., where he completed a four years' course of study. Among his classmates, were Richard Eddy, D.D., and J. H. Tuttle, D.D. After his graduation he supplied the pulpit at Somers, Conn., for several years. Thence he was called to Amesbury, Mass.; and from there to Weymouth, where he was married; thence he was called to Yarmouthport, where he remained for five years. His next settlement was at Biddeford, Me., for two years; thence he went to Marion where he preached for a while, supplying Mattapoisett at the same time. Hingham was his next field of labor, where he spent four years very pleasantly. Methuen was his next pastorate. From there he went to Oxford, and thence to Chicopee. After severing his relations with the latter place, he continued to make it his home, preaching a year at Wilmington, Vt. His last parish work was done at North Orange, which place he was compelled to leave on account of a painful disease in his eyes. Unable to work, he moved to Providence, hoping, on the return of health, to find some professional or other work, by which to support himself and family. But openings for supplies were scarce, his health was still infirm, his hope gave way, his spirits became depressed, aud his death soon after was recorded in the newspapers.

He was a man of conscientious fidelity, of great purity of character, of kindly feeling and tender sympathy, making friends wherever he went. His settlements were none of them long, but in every place where he lived his record was good. None who knew him can read the above outlines of his life, and recall his sad death, without serious reflection and a sympathetic tear.

WALTER HARRIMAN, died July 25, 1884, in Concord, N. H., aged 67. We notice this death because before he entered political and military life, he was a minister of the Universalist Church. He was ordained in about 1844. He first settled in Boxboro', Mass., afterwards in Warner, N. H. But the stirring scenes of the political world attracted his attention, and he left the pulpit for the debates of the rostrum. In 1853 he was sent by President Pierce to investigate the troubles in Kansas. On the breaking out of the war he raised a New Hampshire regiment, and was commissioned as Colonel. He was subsequently elected governor of the State. He was appointed as naval officer of the port of Boston by President Lincoln. He was a man of great energy and vigor of character, and had he remained a preacher, would have risen to high honor and usefulness in the Church. Retaining his liberal faith, his warm sympathies and strong love for humanity, he served God and man, as faithfully, and perhaps, quite as effectively, in civil, as he could have done in ecclesiastical life.

ERASMUS MANFORD, died in Chicago, August 16, in the seventieth year of his age. He was born at Newburyport, Mass., in 1815. In 1835 he went West and engaged in an itinerant life, in the interests of the Universalist faith, — a course he pursued for fifty years. Never locating as a settled preacher, he made the world his field of labor, and was very successful in gathering souls to the truth and kingdom of Christ. In 1841 he began the publication of a periodical for the advocacy of Universalism, which he continued until the time of his death, under the name of "Manford's Magazine." It was an able and candid exposition of Bible truth as he understood it. He also published a narrative of his itinerant labors, with the title "Twenty-five Years in the West," said to be a thrilling and interesting work. He was a man of positive elements of character, of great perseverance, faithful to his sense of duty, a kind friend, and very much respected by those who knew him. He loved his home and family, and was greatly aided in his literary labors by his estimable companion, Mrs. Manford, who survives him. He was ordained to the ministry in the year 1836.

A. L. Loveland, died September 28, in Granby, Conn. He was born in Glastonbury, Conn., in 1825; was self-educated, intending to be a physician, but was persuaded bv Rev. H. B. Soule to study for the ministry. He was ordained in Granby in 1857, where he was pastor for three years. Thence he was called to Norwich, where he preached three years, being obliged, at the expiration of that time, to quit pulpit labor by reason of a throat disease. He returned to Granby and engaged in farming and horticulture, a business congenial to his tastes and conducive to his restoration to health. He soon found strength and ample opportunities to preach in Lyme, Granville and other parts of Eastern Connecticut. He did much to sustain the society in Granby, and was finally recalled to the pastorate some two or three years before his death. He was a man of robust constitution, and the picture of health, when he was suddenly cut down by disease. Possessing good abilities as a thinker and sermonizer, with scholarly tastes and excellent elocutionary powers, his death is a sad loss to our ministry as well as a severe affliction to his family and society in Granby.

UNIVERSALIST REGISTER, 1886.

In the following pages and statistical tables, from the several States and Territories where we have an ecclesiastical organization or any form of existence, it is aimed to give as complete and accurate an account of our strength as a Church, as is possible with the means and methods at command. Where we have organized State Conventions, with recognized officers, all the parishes in the State or Territory should report their condition to the State secretary and he to the Convention, annually. Thence the editor of the Register can easily obtain an accurate and reliable account of the condition of the Church in that State, and all the States. During the past year a good proportion of the States have made, through their secretaries, new and careful returns. This is specially the case with New England, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Iowa, Minnesota, Nebraska, Kansas, Missouri, Texas, Canada; and several of the Southern States through Rev. D. B. Clayton. The secretaries of the above States have taken great pains to have their statistical tables full and complete. Others have done what they could, but have been hampered, more or less, by the system or lack of system under which they have labored. In New York the State secretary was absent from the country until a few weeks ago, and therefore the great State of New York is not as perfectly reported as it otherwise would have been. Both the publisher and the editor feel grateful for every favor and assistance rendered. But they, and all, are working for the good of the Church. A good year-book is not only a convenience to every clergyman, but a valuable guide in laying out our missionary work. The above plan does not exclude any information given direct to the editor from any minister, missionary, or officer of the Church.

There must necessarily be found some errors in the Register, from the fact that so much of our information must be taken from newspaper and second-hand reports; also from the fact that many changes occur from the time the work is given to the printer, to the date of publication. With these allowances, we believe the Register for 1886 is approximately correct.

In our general summary we have held our own very well. Indeed, financially, we have done remarkably well, considering the stringency of the times in the industrial and commercial world. Our Educational Institutions present encouraging reports. An unusual number of young men have entered or have taken steps to enter the ministry. We have every reason for continued thankfulness, and many encouragements for renewed and hopeful labor.

NORWOOD, Dec. 1885.

posed of the Presidents (or, in their absence, the Vice-Presidents) and Secretaries of the several State Conventions, together with clerical and lay delegates from these Conventions, as follows: "Each State Convention shall be entitled to one clerical and two lay delegates, or, having an aggregate of fifty parishes and clergymen, to two clerical and four lay delegates; and for every additional twenty-five parishes and clergymen, to one clerical and two lay delegates. If there be organized Universalist parishes in any State or Territory which has no Convention, they may unite and choose one delegate; and if there be but one such parish it shall likewise be entitled to one delegate."

The General Convention was incorporated March 9, 1866, and empowered to hold real and personal estate to the value of five hundred thousand dollars, to be devoted exclusively to the diffusion of Christian knowledge by means of missionaries, publications, and other agencies. For the accomplishment of this work the Convention holds in trust, by its Board of Trustees, the Murray Centenary Fund, amounting to $122,576.53, the income of which is used to aid in the education of theological students, the circulation of denominational literature, and in church extension and missionary endeavors. Parish collections made annually, and missionary-box receipts, add to the Convention revenues, and enable it to perform its work.

The Convention also has a Theological Scholarship Fund amounting to $22,549.94, the income of which is specially set apart for loans to theological students. This fund is constantly increasing, as all repayments of scholarship loans are added to it.

The John G. Gunn Ministerial Relief Fund, amounting to $10,187.47, is likewise held in trust by the Convention, the income of the fund being devoted, within certain restrictions, to the relief of Universalist clergymen in need, and the families of deceased clergymen left in destitute circumstances. A church extension fund has been started, and now amounts to $360.

The Universalist General Convention exercises ecclesiastical authority throughout the United States and Canada. It is the court of final appeal in cases of dispute between State Conventions, and in all cases of discipline not provided for and settled by subordinate bodies. It has original jurisdiction in States and Territories where no Conventions are organized. Annual sessions are held, beginning on the Wednesday preceding the fourth Sunday in October. Its officers consist of a President, Vice-President, Secretary, Treasurer, and a Board of Trustees, consisting of eleven members, the Secretary of the Convention being a member ex officio. Five members are chosen biennially, to hold office four years. To these trustees is committed the general administration of the Convention interests. The present organization of the Convention is as follows: —

Vice-President — J. H. Swan, Chicago, Ill.

Secretary — G. L. Demarest, D. D., Manchester, N. H.

STATISTICS.

IN THE FOLLOWING CLASSIFICATION BY STATES AND TERRITORIES A TABULAR EXHIBIT OF UNIVERSALIST PARISHES, CHURCHES AND SUNDAY-SCHOOLS IS SHOWN. INFORMATION RESPECTING STATE CONVENTIONS IS ALSO GIVEN.

[The location of parishes according to post-office address is shown in the first column; where a fraction appears after the name of a parish it indicates that preaching services are held part of the time; (oc.) denotes that there is only occasional preaching; (dor.) that the Society is inactive. The number of families included in the respective parishes is given under the proper heading. The date of organization both of Churches and Sunday-schools is indicated in separate columns, with the membership of each organization. Under the head of "Church Edifices," the date of dedication is given when known. Un. denotes that the parish is part owner in a union house of worship; the abbreviations br. (brick), st. (stone), w. (wood), indicate the material of the structure; prop. shows that the parish holds other property besides a church edifice. Under the head of "Values" appears the amount of all property after deducting indebtedness. In the column designated "Preachers" the names of pastors or regular supplies are given. If the name is in italics the preacher is a licentiate; parallels (||) show that he is not in the Universalist fellowship.]

The statistics are taken from the official reports of the several State Convention Secretaries. In some few instances pastors have reported direct to the editor, but the State Secretary is the proper person to receive all local reports. In new States and Territories, we depend upon missionaries, and any information we can get.

A parish was organized at Yankton in 1878, where meetings are held by a few friends and believers for Bible study; and services are occasionally held on Sundays. Rev. A. A. Roberts is located at Aberdeen, but reports nothing concerning the cause.

District of Columbia.

The parish at Washington, organized in 1869, has one hundred and forty families; the church, organized 1874, has ninety-seven members; the Sunday school, organized 1869, has one hundred and eighteen members. Rev. A. Kent, pastor. This parish, aided by the church at large, owns a fine church edifice. The material is brick; the building and lot cost about $47,000. There is no indebtedess.

Florida.

There is little organized Universalism in Florida — nothing that we feel authorized to report for the present issue of the Register. Rev. W. C. Brooks resides at Sorrento, and preaches occasionally.

Georgia.

The State Convention, organized 1869, meets on Friday before first Sunday in September. Pres. — Rev. J. A. Rhyne; Sec. — Rev. J. E. Strain. Committee of Fellowship — Rev. J. H. Park, H. Linch, T. Maguire. There are but few Universalist preachers in Georgia, and these are employed for the most part in missionary work.

At the Convention at Jackson County church in September last, the following ministers were present: Rev. J. A. Park, K. Strain, J. C. Burruss, D. B. Clayton, J. A. Rhyne, V. M. Tumlin, A. G. Strain, the latter receiving ordination during the convention.

KENTUCKY.

The State Convention, organized in 1875; time of meeting changed to third Sunday in October. Pres. — Rev. M. L. Scott; Vice-Pres. — V. J. Mason; Sec. — D. L. Barnes, Fruit Hill, Christian County; Treas. — O. T. Gardner; Committee of Fellowship — Rev. T. Abbott, Rev. R. Medley and O. T. Gardner.

The new church edifice at White Plains was completed and dedicated the past year. Crofton, Christian County, has a church organization but no edifice. At Pleasant Hill there is a union meeting house, but no regular Sabbath services. In Crittenden County there is a church edifice built by the labors of Rev. T. Abbott. Several other points in western Kentucky are reported where preaching circuits might be formed by a little effort. Some of the places given below are supplied by preachers from adjacent States. In the absence of any official information for 1886, the following is the only exhibit that can be now given:

Mississippi.

There are but few Universalist organizations in this State. A church of sixteen members was constituted at Vickland in 1881. Rev. D. B. Clayton reports another at Webster, in Winston Co., organized in 1885, with a membership of twenty, with thirty families who attend the meetings and fifteen who regularly contribute to the support of public worship. Rev. D. B. Clayton is the pastor and preacher. They own a church property worth $350, and raise $130 a year for current expenses and repairs. There are other places where occasional preaching is had.

North Carolina.

There are in the eastern part of North Carolina, writes Rev. D. B. Clayton, more than thirty preaching stations, at which he has officiated at various times for the last seventeen years, besides many others at which he has preached occasionally during his numerous trips to the State. He reports the existence of three organized churches that are working, and of two others that are dormant. He is an active missionary; but the cause as yet is in an unorganized condition.

At Georgiaville, a new church edifice was dedicated Sept. 14, 1885.

South Carolina.

A church, organized 1877, at Feasterville, is reported as in a live and flourishing condition. It has thirty-five or forty members, and a Sunday school of about the same number. Rev. D. B. Clayton, of Cash's Depot, on C. & D. Railroad, preaches there a part of the time, but spends most of his time in North Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi and West Tennessee. In the States named they have no parish organizations; but when they organize, they do it as churches, but in harmony with the General Convention.

Tennessee.

There are but few preaching stations in this State. Eastern Tennessee is visited occasionally by Rev. D. B. Clayton. Dr. Wm. Hale, a lay preacher, does some missionary work, and scatters some Universalist literature. A church of fifteen members was organized in 1880 at Free Hill, where Dr. Hale preaches one-fourth of the time. There is no organized Universalism in the State, and but one or two church edifices owned by Universalists. Still there are many scattered believers in the faith to be found within its limits.

Texas.

There are several parishes, church organizations and preachers in Texas, but as yet in an unorganized condition. Rev. James Billings, as missionary of the State, is doing a good deal to bring the cause into a united and working order. He reports as follows for the present year: —

List of ministers preaching most of the time, — A. J. Carley, Farmersville; J. B. Cone, Rancho; G. M. Cade, M. D., Ingram; A. Van Cleave, S. Springs; J. C. Lawhorn, Elgin; W. Gardner, Beaukiss; J. S. Dunbar, Paige; A. B. Minnerly, Denton Creek; J. D. Dunbar, Fairfield; R. K. Street, Waco; James Billings, State Missionary.

The following brothers have licenses to preach, — Prof. Phil B. McCoury, Bend (P. O.) San Saba Co.; Prof. H. M. D. Fletcher, Clarksville (Texas).

Sunday schools have been organized during 1884 in Williamson, Grapeland, and Farmersville churches, numbering respectively 60, 80 and 35 members. This is quite a gain in the right direction. Totals, — Parishes, 6; church members, 163; Sunday schools, 3; members, 175.

VIRGINIA.

A church edifice owned by Universalists at Richmond is valued at $10,000.

WEST VIRGINIA.

In West Virginia there is some Universalist sentiment, and a desire to hear the doctrine taught. The State was visited in 1884 by Rev. Q. H. Shinn of New Hampshire who held several public meetings, and he reports quite an interest on the part of the people to hear the word, as he had opportunity to proclaim it. A good, able missionary could soon open places for preaching, and find sufficient labor to more than occupy his time. A church at Fort Ridge, organized in 1867, has fifty members, a gain of twelve during the last year. A Sunday school has recently been instituted. The church edifice is valued at $2,000. Rev. S. P. Carlton preaches in this place at regular intervals. He also preaches occasionally at Weston, where several Universalist families reside. The society at Shinnston is reported as dormant. Rev. G. L. Fortney and Rev. J. M. McWhorter reside in this State and preach occasionally.

SCOTLAND.

The Universalists of Scotland, in 1875, organized a Convention which meets annually. It is a small body composed of only two churches, — the one in Glasgow and the one in Larbut. The Glasgow church has one hundred and twenty members. A Sunday school of sixty members is connected with the church. The Woman's Centenary Association has given generous support to the Scottish Mission. There is much unorganized Universalism in Scotland, and there are several preaching stations where occasional services are held. The officers of the Scotland Convention are as follows: Pres. — Robert Wallace; Vice-Pres. — Andrew Ure; Sec. — Charles F. Jameson, Glasgow; Treas. — John McBride; Trus. — T. Roughead; R. Binny, James Smith, Wm. Wallace and Robert Benson. J. W. Hanson, D.D., Missionary for 1886.

ALPHABETICAL LIST OF UNIVERSALIST PREACHERS, WITH THEIR POST-OFFICE ADDRESSES.

UNIVERSALIST GENERAL CONVENTION.

SESSION OF 1885.

The General Convention held its annual session, October 20, 21, 22, 1885, at Brooklyn, N. Y. The proceedings of the Convention were of an earnest and hopeful character. Among the more important subjects discussed, was the best method of raising more money for church extension and missionary work.

Abstract of the Treasurer's report for the year ending Oct. 1, 1885: — Receipts from all sources, $36,893.18. Disbursements for all purposes, $36,893.18. The Murray Fund met with a small loss by a loan on the Lawrence (Kansas) Church, and now stands $122,576.53. The Theological School Fund has made a gain, and now stands $22,549.94. The Ministerial Relief Fund has also made a gain, and stands $10,187.47. A Church Extension Fund has been started, and amounts to $870, including gifts made since the Secretary's report was published.

The Executive Board recommended the following appropriations, with authority to apply at their discretion any surplus of receipts from whatever sources: —

Salary of Secretary,	$1,400 00
Incidental expenses,	1,000 00
Scholarships,	6,000 00
Missions,	6,600 00
	$15,000 00

Bequests have been received during the year of $2,000 from Mrs. Betsey S. Smith of New Hampshire, and Miss Harriet H. Fay, of Massachusetts, of $2,000, also of an estate in prospect of $12,000 from a friend.

Most of the State Conventions have a State Home Missionary Fund. These in the aggregate amount to $195,365.54. The total endowment of the General Conventions is $155,673.94. In all, $350,039.48. This is exclusive of subordinate missionary organizations, and also of endowments of educational institutions. State Conventions have been aided from the general fund $1,000. Church extension to the amount of $1,603.67. Church sustentation to the amount of $2,223. From somewhat incomplete returns, there have been contributed during the year for the funds and missionary work of the General and State Conventions over $50,000; for educational purposes, $107,500; for parish services and repair of church edifices, $815,000. In all, $1,000,000; or an average of $27 for each family reported. Tufts, Dean and Goddard have each received handsome legacies.

The Executive Board say: — "We cannot, however, close what we have to say under this head without calling attention to our theological schools. It is no exaggeration to say that these constitute the most effective instrumentality of denominational progress. Our ministry is increasing; but the demand for ministers and the opportunities for ministerial work increase far more rapidly. It is difficult to keep pace with our constantly growing necessities. The crying need of our Church, and of all churches, is for an increase of the ministerial body, in men thoroughly educated and equipped for their professional work, such as our theological schools are now fitted to furnish. It is very gratifying to observe that several of our State Conventions are taking active measures to secure recruits for the ministry by seeking out suitable candidates and placing them under the instruction of our theological faculties. This is a work which may be enlarged profitably, and which deserves every encouragement."

In the above return of values, the indebtedness is not in every instance subtracted, so that the Register report is larger than that given by the Secretary of the General Convention ($6,901,969), which is undoubtedly the more correct figure. The number of ministers in fellowship is 680 and 18 licensed Lay Preachers.

The above table is approximately correct. In some of our institutions there has been a pecuniary gain by legacies. Tufts College, Buchtel College, and Dean and Goddard Seminaries have been thus favored. In the number of students there has been but slight change. The stringency of the times has kept many young, bright minds from the benefit of our educational institutions; yet we have held our own, and are in a good condition to do more effective work when times are better. If our people will patronize our own institutions of learning, their success will be greatly enhanced.

Candidates must bring testimonials as to character, and avow their purpose to devote their lives to the Christian ministry. Bachelors of Art are admitted without examination. Other candidates are examined in the branches usually taught in the best High Schools and Academies. The full collegiate course, as preliminary, is recommended to those who contemplate theological studies; but, since the circumstances of many earnest and capable men forbid so extensive preparation, a four years' theological course has been provided. This course permits the introduction of branches not strictly professional, and yet of a fundamental character, and of the highest disciplinary value. It is the policy of the school to encourage the judicious use of the important facilities which the proximity of the College to an intellectual centre like Boston affords — libraries, cabinets, lectures, the teachings and methods of the most noted preachers of New England.

The degree of D.B. is conferred upon A.B's who take the full course of three years, and upon others who make equivalent attainments. To others taking the four years' course, a suitable certificate is given.

The necessary expenses will not exceed $200 a year. Tuition, room-rent, use of furniture, free, Students may add to their resources by preaching during the year and a half previous to graduation. The General Convention of Universalists aids students by a system of loans.

Students completing one of the partial courses will not receive a certificate of actual attainments in the studies pursued.

Those completing the full course will receive the degree of B.D.

All departments of the University are open to students of Theology without charge. The only expense is for board and books, which may be so reduced by beneficiary funds as to place the advantages of the Theological School within the reach of all who desire them.

NECROLOGY.

THIRTEEN of our Clergymen have died since the Register went to press in 1885. Brief obituaries are given, such as the Editor has been able to gather from the denominational press and the letters of friends. These would be more perfect, if surviving friends would be particular as to dates and material facts.

ROTHEUS M. BYRAM was born Dec. 16, 1813, and died in Kennebunk, Me., Dec. 5, 1884. He was first settled in New Sharon, Me , and afterwards in Minot, Skowhegan, Waterville, Bridgton, (in which he settled twice with ten years interval,) Freeport New Gloucester, Sandy Point, Rumford Point and Oxford, Billerica Mass, Rumney, N. H., and East Montpelier, Vt. His last years were devoted to temperance work as the agent of the Mass. Total Abstinence Society. He was a faithful, conscientious man, of great moral worth. His remains were buried in Chelsea beside those of a former companion, leaving a widow, to whom he had been united about two years, also a son and daughter. His memory is precious, as one who spent his life in the service of God and humanity.

WILLIAM TAYLOR was born in the city of Philadelphia, Penn., fifty years ago, and died in Troy, N. Y., Oct. 25. He studied for the medical profession and graduated from a medical institution in that city. He served as a surgeon in the Army of the Potomac during the war of the rebellion, being connected with the Pennsylvania volunteers. His last military service was with the sixth Pennsylvania heavy artillery, and at the close of the war he was surgeon at Fort Ethan Allen, in the defences of Washington. Self-sacrifice was a prominent characteristic of Dr. Taylor, and he was ever ready to inconvenience himself to add to the comfort of a sick or wounded soldier.

When the war ended Dr. Taylor decided to become a minister of the Gospel, and at once began the study of theology. His first charge was in his native city. Subsequently he was pastor of a church in Baltimore, Md., from which city he was called to the Universalist Church at Towanda, Penn., where he remained until May 1, 1882, when he removed to Troy and took charge of the Universalist Church. During the last two years of his residence in Pennsylvania, Dr. Taylor was president of the Universalist Convention of that State, and at the time of his death he was secretary of the Universalist Convention of the State of New York. His death is a public loss, causing sorrow to the entire community. A devoted husband, a kind and indulgent father, a noble Christian citizen has been called home. He was an able speaker, and his sermons were the result of deep thought and were powerful arguments.

SELAH WHEADON, died in Lewiston, Ill., Feb. 23, 1885, in the sixty-sixth year of his age. He was born in Mendon, Monroe Co., N. Y., Nov. 29, 1819, and removed to Illinois in June, 1835. He joined the Presbyterian Church in 1842, but having become a believer in the doctrine of Universal Salvation, he was expelled for heresy in 1851. He commenced preaching his new faith in October, 1851, at Matanzas, Ill., and was ordained to the work of the ministry at the State Convention at Galesburg, in June, 1852. He preached in Havana, Lewiston, Table Grove, Lawrence, Salt Creek, Delevan, Macon City, and some other places, and organized a number of new societies, and held a number of public discussions with religious opponents. His last pulpit labor was in Table Grove, Illinois, during the years of 1883–4. He was a pioneer and missionary rather than a settled pastor. He had fine natural abilities, a good education, a love for literature and the work of the pen. He was engaged in journalism at the time of his death.

HENRY JEWELL died on Sunday, January 11, 1885, at Merrimac, Mass. He was born in Litchfield, Me., July 18, 1812, where he obtained what education the common school afforded, supplemented by home studies, and such reading as fell in his way. Early inclined to religion, he first joined the Freewill Baptist Church. Leaving home at eighteen years of age, he went to Methuen, Mass., to learn the shoemaking business. While here he chanced to hear the late Thomas Whittemore, D.D., preach one of his powerful doctrinal discourses. Young Jewell received new light, and after much thought and careful reading of his Bible, he was convinced of the truth of the glad faith, and resolved to become a herald and defender of it. After a time spent in study, under the direction of the Rev. John A. Greeley, he commenced preaching, at first as a missionary, in the vicinity of Methuen. In 1836 he was ordained to the ministry at Salem, N. H. His first pastorate was at South Reading, now Wakefield, Mass. Thence he went to the Second Society in Lynn, thence to Exeter in '43, and Great Falls, N. H., in '46. He was settled in Cincinnati from 1847 to 1851. He preached in Lawrence, Mass., a short time in the years '51–2; and then accepted a call to Stoneham, and thence in '55 to Lynn, the second time. He was called to Canton, Mass., in 1858, where he remained until 1866. Terre Haute, Ind., Manchester, Iowa, Rome, Bristol, Nunda, N. Y., filled up his time from 1866 to 1875, when he settled in Hardwick, Mass., where he remained three years. He then took a rest for three years, residing for the time in Malden; but in 1881, he resumed his ministerial and pastoral work, by accepting a call from Merrimac, where, after forty-nine years of active labor, he was called to his rest and his reward.

He was a good and faithful man and minister, a warm friend, and sincerely devoted to the work of Christ. He was widely known and as widely lamented in his death.

Prof. S. Clark Smith of Fairfield Seminary, was shot dead by Dr. M. Richter of Middleville, N. Y., at that place, Feb. 28. Mr. Smith had received license as a lay preacher from the Committee of Fellowship, and was intending to study theology at Canton, and then enter the ministry. He was an excellent young man, twenty-seven years of age.

Otis H. Johnson of Jay, Me., died Tuesday morning, July 28th. He had been failing since last autumn, but until quite recently hopes of his recovery have been entertained. He was a great sufferer the last few weeks of his life and failed rapidly. He said it was all right, he was at peace, had no fear and found his faith and trust sufficient even in the near approach of the end. Mr. Johnson was a little more than seventy years of age, had been in the ministry over forty years, and for more than thirty years lived at Jay, preaching constantly in the adjacent towns, where he was greatly appreciated and beloved. He began his ministry in quite early manhood. He was ordained in 1839. He had been a well man up to the time of his last sickness, and there had been but very few Sundays that he did not preach during the forty years of his public ministry. He officiated at more funerals than any minister of our faith in the State, and I think more than any clergyman in the State of any denomination, having attended between three and four thousand. Mr. Johnson was a good preacher, a tender husband, and a kind and affectionate father.

HENRY F. MILLER died at Akron, Ohio, Jan. 15, 1885, at the age of 55 years and 6 months. From the pen of Rev. G. S. Weaver, D.D., a life-long friend and acquaintance, we learn that Mr. Miller was a graduate of the Ohio University, an accomplished scholar, and a man of rare excellences of character. He was ordained to the Christian ministry in the year 1859, previous to which he devoted himself to teaching in the Western Liberal Institute, located at Marietta. He was a Universalist in faith, and after teaching a few years he entered upon the active work of the ministry, preaching with force and efficiency the faith he loved. But seeing the pressing need of education to sustain and broaden the Universalist church, he gave his attention to the subject of education, and the establishment of a denominational school and college for the West. By the direction of the North-Western Conference, he raised $100,000 for the endowment of Lombard University, at Galesburg, Ill. He also raised a large sum to found a school in Indiana Still later, when the State of Ohio felt again the educational impulse, Mr. Miller was authorized to inquire into the condition of the old Institute property at Marietta, with reference to using it to a better purpose elsewhere. His investigations resulted in the rescue of the property at Marietta and the founding of Buchtel College at Akron. Afterwards he accepted the principalship at Lodi for a few terms, but failing health drove him from his loved and congenial vocation, and at the time of his death he was acting as a missionary for the Ohio Convention to raise a fund to establish a permanent place for the summer meeting of the Convention. He was a man of energy, of practical talent, rational piety, and dearly beloved by a wide circle of friends.

VINCENT CORLEY died Sept. 18, 1885. He was born in Edgefield District, S. C., July 24, 1800, making him at the time of his death 85 years of age. He spent a part of his life in teaching school, also practised medicine for a number of years. His entire life was that of a Christian gentleman.

His doors were ever open to all people; and preachers of all denominations ever found a welcome at his home. He did not believe in fighting creeds, but ever waged war against sin. In 1866 he joined the Universalist church at Alford Chapel, and preached to that church as occasion would present. He lived a quiet, peaceful life, was much loved by all who knew him, and remained firm in his blessed faith to his death. The above facts are taken from the Notasulga "Universalist Herald."

Orson B. Clark died at his house in Jamestown, N. Y., Aug. 5, 1885, aged 74 years and 8 months. He was born in Hartwick, Otsego Co., N. Y., in 1810, Sept. 14. He was ordained to the ministry of the Universalist church in 1845, bearing the labors and burdens and wearing the honors of the ministry for forty years. After his ordination he preached at North Bloomfield and South Dansville; thence he moved to Phillips Creek, Alleghany Co., where he labored five years, building a church edifice for the society in that place. He then returned to Steuben Co., and preached in Branchport, Greenwood, Liberty, and other places for short periods of time. In 1865, or thereabouts, he located in Sinclaresville; thence he removed to Busti, and from there to Tionesta, Pa., from which place he entered the army as a chaplain of the Eighty-third Regiment of Pennsylvania Volunteers on the breaking out of the war. The brother who attended his funeral thus speaks of him: — "He served with credit through the war, performing the duties of army chaplain in a way which gained him thousands of earnest friends. A part of the battles through which he passed are Antietam, Fredericksburg, Chancellorsville, Gettysburg, Rappahannock, Kelly's Ford, Mine Run, Preeble's Station, Quaker Run, Five Forks, Wilderness Farm, Laurel Hill, Old Church, Cold Harbor, and those before Petersburg. He received a wound at Meade's Station. After being honorable discharged in the spring of 1865, he resumed his duties as pastor; his last charge being at Portageville, N. Y. He removed from this place to Jamestown thirteen years since, and has since resided here until the time of his death. Mr. Clark has been known by his unpretending charities, and many an old soldier and his family have reason to bless 'Chaplain' Clark, as he was generally called, for the assistance he has extended where it was most needed. He was a man of extensive reading and fine education. By his death, Jamestown loses one of her oldest and most esteemed citizens."

CHARLES PRINCE WEST was born in Cato, N. Y., Aug. 9, 1805. His parents were poor; there was a large family, and he was early apprenticed to a neighbor to learn the blacksmith's trade. He was of a studious turn of mind, and soon found an opportunity to attend school in Prattsburg, N. Y. His people were all Presbyterians, and here he was converted, and set his heart on the ministry. But he was not destined to preach that doctrine. Before he was ready to preach he removed to Castile, where he embraced the larger hope, and became a Universalist. Pursuing his studies, he taught school in Castile, Java, and vicinity. After his marriage to Clarinda Burlingham, March 7, 1833, he moved to Bucyrus, Ohio, where for some time he was editor of a paper. He moved to Michigan in 1840, and served as county clerk until he began to preach, in 1840, near Cold Water. He was settled at Otsego until 1847, when he moved to Illinois, preaching in Monmouth, Henderson, and many other points, doing the real missionary work of an evangelist. But the great work of his life, and the most enduring monument to his memory, is the prominent part he took in the establishment of the Illinois Liberal Institute at Galesburg, which afterwards grew into Lombard University. He was the first to inaugurate the movement for a liberal school. He was zealous and active in its establishment. He served the institution in the various capacities of secretary, treasurer, and financial agent, for nearly twenty years. It is safe to say, that the institution owes more to Mr. West than to any one man, for its foundation and early growth. In 1870, Mr. West, being then too old to continue the active work of the ministry, removed to Anita, Iowa, where he spent the remainder of his days with his children, passing to his reward Oct. 6, 1883, in the 78th year of his age. He leaves behind three children, and his wife, who shared with him over fifty years of home life. He took great interest in all moral reforms, especially in temperance, on which issue he was elceted mayor of the city of Galesburg.

[By the request of friends of the deceased, the above obituary notice is published in this number of the Register.

A brief mention of his death was made in the issue for 1884, but, in consideration of his eminent services, and marked worth as a man, it seems eminently proper that a more complete account of his life and labors should be given. — ED.]

ARTHUR D. KIMBALL, died Aug. 13, 1885, in Marlow, N. H., aged 22 years and 6 months. He was a graduate of Tufts Divinity School, in June, 1885, a licentiate of the Massachusetts State Convention, and had began preaching with much promise of future success. He possessed fine talents, and an amiable, pleasant disposition. His sudden early death just as he was taking his first serious outlook upon his chosen field of labor was not alone disappointment to him, but to the ministry which stands so much in need of earnest, faithful young men. But God's ways are not our ways, and He had work for him in a higher and purer sphere than any this world affords. Young Kimball was much beloved by his college mates, the faculty, and by all who shared his acquaintance. He was a member of the Universalist Social Union, and the first to be called from the joys of earth to the higher and purer joys of heaven. He leaves many true and devoted friends to mourn his early death.

W. S. PETERSON was born November 9th, 1836, near Brookville, Ind., and died October 9th, 1885 in Reading, Pa. His life was one of varied activity of large usefulness and rare integrity. Apprenticed to a printer at the age of fifteen, he soon aspired to something higher, and began his literary career by writing for various papers and magazines. From compositor he rose to the editorial chair, and was founder and editor of the "Dubuque Daily." Preceding and during the war his vote, pen and voice were for the loyal side. In 1855 he became interested in the faith and work of the Methodist Church. In 1861 he went to Galena as pastor of a Methodist Church, thence to the war a chaplain of an Illinois regiment. In 1868 he was editor of the "Temperance Platform" in Iowa. In 1870 he edited the "Dayton Times." Later he accepted a call to the First Congregational Church of Findlay, Ohio; thence he went to the Mayflower Church in St. Louis, Mo.

After some other newspaper adventures of a successful character, he was called, in 1881, to Washington, D. C., by President Arthur, and made the custodian of the plates and seals of the bureau of engraving and printing. During his later years his faith had been changing to a more liberal cast, until, while in Washington, he became a Universalist, and attended that church under the ministry of Rev. A. Kent. After preaching a few months to an independent church in Washington, he accepted the pastorate of the Universalist Church in Reading, Pa., in hopes that the pure air of the country would benefit his failing health. But in this he was doomed to disappointment. He continued to decline until he passed away on the 9th of October, much to the regret and sorrow of his parishioners. The society took action concerning his death, and passed very commendatory resolutions concerning his character and work. He was a man of talent and of unblemished character, retaining the confidence of those with whom he differed. Still in the prime of manhood, his early death is a loss to Liberal Christianity.

William J. Chaplin died at Walcottville Lagrange Co., Ind., September 13th, 1885. He was ordained to the work of the ministry in 1848. He was for many years a very devoted missionary preacher in Indiana and Michigan. His life was very useful and positive for good. Many call him blessed for bringing them to a knowledge of the truth and in making life for them full of the joy and hope of the Gospel in the complete triumph of good. In his life, sickness, and death, he fully exemplified the all-sustaining faith he had preached to others. He was an honored member of the fraternities of Odd Fellows and Masons, and held high and responsible offices in these orders. He was somewhat past middle life, and his active work was nearly done, but with health he was capable of years of valiant service. He leaves a large and intelligent family, all occupying useful and honorable positions in society.

G. L. Demerest, D.D., the General Secretary, reports the death of James C. Kendrick, with no dates or account of his life. Nothing more as yet has been published.

GIVING

STATISTICS OF THE UNIVERSALIST CHURCH,

AND OTHER

DENOMINATIONAL INFORMATION, ETC.

For 1887.

EDITED BY

RICHARD EDDY, D.D.

BOSTON:
UNIVERSALIST PUBLISHING HOUSE,

UNIVERSALIST REGISTER, 1887.

In compiling the facts mentioned in the following pages, the editor has aimed to make the Register a reliable reference-book in regard to our Conventions, Associations, Parishes, Churches, Colleges and other institutions and organizations auxiliary to, or in a general way connected with the Universalist Church; and also to give reliable information concerning the residence of each and every preacher. Thanks to the interest manifested in this purpose by many, a degree of success has been obtained; but it must be confessed that the accuracy which ought to characterize such a Register cannot be claimed, and will not be realized, while those who alone have the power to furnish the necessary data, withhold it. It would be an easy task to each pastor or stated supply of a parish to give the information asked for in regard to his Parish, Church, Sunday School and Parish Property; but, unfortunately, there are many who never attempt it; and in consequence, the information, if obtained at all, must be volunteered by others, or gleaned from the Church newspaper, and is liable to be more or less inaccurate.

Several of the secretaries of State Conventions have rendered substantial aid; their efforts are highly appreciated, gratefully acknowledged, and their continued assistance is earnestly solicited. We depend upon them for accurate information in regard to the work and officers of their respective organizations. The example set by these officials in Ohio and Indiana in forwarding complete lists of clergymen in fellowship with these respective Conventions is commended to the notice of other secretaries, as furnishing the only reliable basis for the distinction between ministers in fellowship and those not in formal fellowship. In many instances these reports of secretaries also furnish, — owing to the neglect of preachers as just mentioned, — the latest information available to the editor in regard to the statistics of Parishes, Churches, Sunday Schools and Property. But while such information is gratefully received, and, in the absence of reports direct from pastors, is gladly used, it is not, for the purposes of this Register, wholly satisfactory, for the reason that in many instances it is a copy of figures and statements returned to the Secretary of the General Convention for the year ending the previous December; in other instances it is based on reports collected in advance of the sessions of the respective Conventions, and therefore represents the condition of the parishes and their organizations at a time quite remote from the issue of the Register, — in not a few instances several months before its publication.

If all interested will be so minded, the Register for succeeding years can represent our condition accurately, up to October preceding the year of its date. Hereafter, the portion of the Register giving the statistics of Conventions and Parishes will be put in the hands of the printer on the 10th day of October. The Alphabetical List of Preachers will be open to corrections until the first day of November.

Universalist Register for 1887.

The General Convention.

"The Universalist General Convention," having jurisdiction over the ecclesiastical organizations of the Universalist Church in the United States and Canadian Provinces, meets annually. The session for 1887 will be held in the city of New York on Wednesday, October 19. Preacher of the Occasional Sermon, Rev. E. C. Bolles, D D. The Convention is composed of the Presidents (or, in their absence, the Vice-Presidents) and Secretaries of the State Conventions, and of clerical and lay delegates from the State Conventions, each State being entitled to one clerical and two lay delegates and to an additional number of each class of delegates in proportion to the aggregate of its parishes and clergymen. At least four parishes must be organized and established in a State before a State Convention can be formed; but a less number of parishes may unite to choose one delegate, clerical or lay, to represent them in the General Convention, and if there be but one parish so situated, it is entitled to one delegate. In all such States or Territories the General Convention has original jurisdiction.

All laws relating to fellowship, ordination and discipline originate in the General Convention, and it is the final court of appeal in all cases of dispute or difficulty between State Conventions. It is an incorporated body, empowered to hold real and personal estate to the value of five hundred thousand dollars, "to be devoted exclusively to the diffusion of Christian knowledge, by means of missionaries, publications and other agencies." In the interim of sessions the interests of the Convention are watched over and managed by a Board of Trustees. The funds of the Convention as reported to the annual session, October, 1886, aggregate $170,918.28, and are distributed as follows: —

I. The Murray Centenary Fund, created in 1870, as a memorial of the one hundredth anniversary of Rev. John Murray's first sermon in America, $123,576.53. The income of this fund is used "in the aid of theological students, the distribution of Universalist literature, church extension and the missionary cause."

II. The Theological Scholarship Fund. This fund is created by the repayment of loans made to theological students. It now amounts to $25,001.94, and the income is appropriated to loans to new students.

III. Church Extension Fund. Started in 1884 on the modest foundation of $210, this fund, the income of which is to be devoted as its name indicates, now amounts to $3,987.81.

IV. Gunn Ministerial Relief Fund. The late John G. Gunn of New York bequeathed to the Convention the sum of $8,000, "to create a fund for the relief, support and maintenance of needy clergymen, their widows and families, of the Universalist denomination," except those in fellowship through the New York State Convention, which has an endowment for that purpose. The fund now amounts to $10,452.40.

V. Ada Tibbetts Memorial Fund. During the past year the Rev. A. Tibbetts, of Urbana, Ill., one of the early graduates of the Canton Theological School, conveyed to the Convention, in fee simple, 200 acres of farm land in Champaign County, Ill., moderately valued at $60 per acre, subject to a lien of $4,100, on condition that he is to have the use, occupancy and income of the property during his natural life; and that perpetually thereafter, one-tenth of the income shall be added annually to the principal of the fund, the remaining nine-tenths to be applied, at the discretion of the Trustees, to the purposes of the Convention. The value of the property over and above the lien is $7,900.

The aggregate increase of the Convention funds during the Convention year 1885–6, was $15,245. The appropriations for the Convention year 1886–7, are $16,500, with whatever surplus of income from any source may be deemed best by the Trustees.

STATISTICS.

IN THE FOLLOWING CLASSIFICATION BY STATES AND TERRITORIES A TABULAR EXHIBIT OF UNIVERSALIST PARISHES, CHURCHES AND SUNDAY-SCHOOLS IS SHOWN. INFORMATION RESPECTING STATE CONVENTIONS IS ALSO GIVEN.

[The location of parishes according to post-office address is shown in the first column; where a fraction appears after the name of a parish it indicates that preaching services are held part of the time; (oc.) denotes that there is only occasional preaching; (dor.) that the Society is inactive. The number of families included in the respective parishes is given under the proper heading. The date of organization both of Churches and Sunday-schools is indicated in separate columns, with the membership of each organization. Under the head of "Church Edifices," the date of dedication is given when known. Un. denotes that the parish is part owner in a union house of worship; the abbreviations br. (brick), st. (stone), w. (wood), indicate the material of the structure; prop. shows that the parish holds other property besides a church edifice. Under the head of "Values" appears the amount of all property after deducting indebtedness. In the column designated "Preachers" the names of pastors or regular suppplies are given. If the name is in italics the preacher is a licentiate; parallels (.) show that he is not in the Universalist fellowship.]

The statistics are taken from the official reports of the several State Convention Secretaries, as far as practicable, but modified by reports of later date direct from the pastors or preachers. In the absence of information of recent date from either of the above sources, changes are noted as indicated in the denominational papers.

At Valley Falls a new church edifice was dedicated May 13, 1886.

South Carolina.

A church, organized 1877, at Feasterville, is reported as in a live and flourishing condition. It has fifty-eight members, a Sunday-school of about thirty-five members, and a church edifice valued at $400. Rev. D. B. Clayton, of Cash's Depot, on C. & D. Railroad, preaches there a part of the time, but spends most of his time in North Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi and West Tennessee.

Tennessee.

There are several places in this State where Universalism is occasionally preached; but no settled pastors, no Sunday schools, and no church edifices owned wholly by Universalists. Dr. William Hale and Mr. A. C. Bowers, lay preachers, alternately officiate the first Sunday in each month at Free Hill, Eastern Tennessee, where is a church, organized in 1880, and now numbering twenty-five members, worshipping in a house in which they have an equal interest with another denomination. They also speak elsewhere as opportunity offers. In Middle Tennessee, Rev. W. S. Nolan, a licentiate, and E. B. Hammer, a lay preacher, preach occasionally. Rev. D. B. Clayton preaches more or less in Western Tennessee, where the Universalists at Glimp own an interest in a church edifice occupied by the Baptists. Rev. E. M. Carnell, a Methodist preacher in that section of the State, is said to be outspoken in his belief and advocacy of Universalism. Rev. Mr. Clayton reports that several churches might be organized in Western Tennessee if the friends had places for meetings.

Texas.

Rev. James Billings, missionary in this State, reports a growing interest in our cause. A State Association was organized in September, 1886. Rev. James Billings, Pres., John Harvey, Sec. Mr. Billings gives the following as the ministerial and organized strength in Texas: J. B. Cone, Rancho; G. M. Cade, M.D., Ingham; A. Van Cleave, Sipe Springs; J. C. Lawhorn, Elgin; W. Gardner, Beaukiss; J. S. Dunbar, Paige; A. B. Minnerly, Denton Creek; J. K. Street, Dallas; Phil. B. McConry, Bend, San Saba Co.; Prof. H. M. D. Flecher, Clarksville; A. G. Strain, Nolens Valley; J. A. Rhyne, Eastland; James Billings, Hico; Mrs. M. C. Billings, Hico; Miss M. F. Dunaway, Blanket, Brown Co.; J. M. Wright, Farmersville.

Scotland.

The Universalists of Scotland, in 1875, organized a Convention which meets annually, on the last Saturday in May. It is a small body composed of only two churches, — the one in Glasgow and the one in Larbert. The church at Larbert owns the building in which it worships, and is known as the Church of the Redeemer. That at Glasgow worships in a hall at the Glasgow Cross and is known as St. Paul's Universalist Church. Services are held regularly at both places, — in Larbert mostly by lay-preachers and in Glasgow by American missionaries, sent over by the Woman's Centenary Association, which has given generous support to the cause of Universalism in Scotland. There are several preaching stations and much unorganized Universalism. The officers of the Scotland Convention are: Honorary Presidents — Rev. J. W. Hanson, D.D., and Rev. C. A. Soule; Pres.— Robert Wallace; Vice. Pres. — Andrew Ure; Sec. — John McBride; Treas. — William Boyle; Trus. — T. Roughead, R. Binnie, James Smith, R. Hamilton and John Currie. Rev. J. W. The full Collegiate course, as preliminary, is recommended to those who contemplate theological studies; but, since the circumstances of many earnest and capable man forbid so extensive preparation, a four years' Theological course has been provided. This course permits the introduction of branches not strictly professional, and yet of a fundamental character, and of the highest disciplinary value. It is the policy of the school to encourage the judicious use of the important facilities which the proximity of the College to an intellectual centre like Boston affords, — libraries, cabinets, lectures, the teachings and methods of the most noted preachers of New England.

The degree of D.B. is conferred upon A.B.'s who take the full course of three years, and upon others who make equivalent attainments. To others taking the four years' course, a suitable certificate is given.

The necessary expenses will not exceed $200 a year. Tuition, room-rent, use of furniture, free. Students may add to their resources by preaching during the year and a half previous to graduation. The General Convention of Universalists aids students by a system of loans.

Those completing the full course will receive the degree of B.D.

The Calendar of the Theological School corresponds with that of other departments of the University.

CLINTON LIBERAL INSTITUTE.

This institution, founded at Clinton, N. Y., in 1831, was moved to Fort Plain, N. Y., in 1879, and came into the possession of the buildings and grounds formerly known as the Fort Plain Seminary and Collegiate Institute. The present buildings are practically new and fitted with all modern conveniences. They are warmed by steam and lighted by gas, and afford excellent accommodations for 150 boarding pupils.

Competent judges have pronounced them the finest of their kind in the State. Recent improvements include the new Porter Business College room, fitted up at an expense of $1,000; the introduction of entirely new plumbing, costing over $1,200, and connection with the village water-works, by which an unfailing supply of pure water is insured. The Business College has a complete equipment of desks, offices, etc. The Boys' Gymnasium, erected five years ago, is a two-story brick structure, 76x40 feet. Besides having four bowling-alleys, it is well supplied with the usual apparatus. It has proved valuable in many ways. The Ladies' Gymnasium is a room 56 feet long, opening from the chapel. The young ladies have daily Calisthenics, under the supervision of Miss Cora M. Wheeler. The Institute is an admirably equipped school for young men and women. It aims to furnish advantages equal to the best to be found elsewhere and at the same time make the expense to students as low as will permit the accomplishment of this object. All the departments of academic training, as of the Classics, Sciences and Mathematics, are in the charge of instructors whose training and experience, as well as ability, qualify them for their work.

In the department of Modern Languages students may acquire a speaking mastery of German, French and Spanish. Piano Music is in the charge of Professor C. L. N. Camp, whose instruction in this branch during the six years he has been connected with the Institute has given such entire satisfaction. Vocal Music is taught by Miss Lillian Reynolds, recently the soprano in the choir of Immanuel Church, Boston, and for years a pupil of Geo. L. Osgood. The course in Elocution, as conducted by Miss C. M. Wheeler, is unreservedly recommended to those who desire to make a specialty of this study. It is doubtful whether any other seminary in the State affords one equally good. The work in the Art Department is decidedly superior. The Business Course is greatly superior to any offered by exclusively commercial schools. Common English receives particular attention. Students are prepared for any college. Excellent courses in Literature, Rhetoric and History. Working Laboratory for students in Chemistry and Physics.

Besides a preparatory year in common English, the school provides nine regular courses, viz.: The Collegiate, four years; the Academic, three years; the College Preparatory, three years; the Literary and Musical, three years; the Business, length six months at least; Piano, three years; Vocal, three years; Art, three years; Elocution, two years. These will be found outlined in the school catalogue. Expenses, for board, tuition, church sitting, furnished room and washing, from $210 to $220 per year. Reduced rates to children of clergymen.

The school is located in one of the most delightful and healthful portions of the Mohawk Valley, about midway between Albany and Utica, on the New York Central and West Shore railroads. Twelve passenger trains from the West and twelve from the East stop at Fort Plain daily.

Students under 13 years of age are not admitted.

These figures, as compared with the corresponding recapitulation in the Register for 1886, show a gain in parishes, but a loss in families; a gain in churches, but not a proportionate gain in church members; a gain in Sunday schools, but a great loss in the members of Sunday schools. This is accounted for by manifest errors in the footings of last year, both as respects the separate States and the columns of figures employed on the recapitulation page. An error, for example, in the footings of families reported for Massachusetts making an excess of 994, an excess of 2,856 in Sunday-school membership in Maine, and an excess of 970 in Sunday-school membership in Illinois. The recapitulation last year should have shown 930 parishes, 37,501 families, 630 churches, 34,105 church members. 577 Sunday schools, 51,871 members of Sunday schools. Assuming the correctness of the figures this year, there has been an apparent gain during the year of 15 parishes, 928 families, 65 church organizations, 1,445 church members, 57 Sunday schools, 1,682 members of Sunday schools, 48 church edifices, $375,722 in the value of church property. But as several localities have reported this year which were not reported last year, the gains must in some instances be extended over several years.

The discrepancy between the figures here presented and those made in the report of the Board of Trustees to the General Convention, in October, 1886, is largely accounted for from the fact that the latter are based on returns of the status of the parishes Dec. 31, 1885, while many of those given in these pages represent the condition of the parishes at least nine months later. The number of Ministers in fellowship is 673 and 20 licensed Lay Preachers.

Tufts College, Buchtel College, St. Lawrence University, Lombard University, St. Lawrence Theological School, Goddard Seminary and Clinton Liberal Institute have been thus favored. In the number of students there has been a small increase.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S MISSIONARY ASSOCIATION.

For the purpose of interesting the young people of the Universalist Church in the realization and discharge of their obligations, the General Convention has drafted the plan of a Young People's Missionary Association. All the young people of a Universalist parish, of the age of twelve years and upwards, are eligible to membership. After paying all incidental expenses of the club, for which purpose each member pays into the treasury an annual sum not less than twenty-five cents, the net revenues of of the association, from whatever source received, are divided equally between the General Convention and the State Convention in whose jurisdiction the Association may be located. Twenty-nine of these associations are already formed, located as follows: —

At St. Paul's Church, Chicago; at Englewood, Galesburg, Springfield, Blue Island, Sycamore, Morrison and Avon, Illinois; at Augusta, Me.; at the Church of the Mediator, Providence, R. I.; at Dubuque, Iowa; at Watertown, Rochester, Lockport, Sherman and Troy, N. Y.; at Hightstown, N. J.; at Newtown and Akron, Ohio; at Minneapolis, Minn.; at Chatham, Columbus Avenue Church, Boston, Abington, Lawrence, Franklin, Shawmut Universalist Church, Boston, and at Grove Hall, Boston, Mass.; at East Jaffrey, N.H., and at Lincoln, Neb.

NECROLOGY.

EIGHT of our Clergymen have died since the Register for 1886 went to press. Such notice of the deceased as is possible from the data obtained, and the limited space allowed by these pages, is here given.

DANIEL REED BIDDLECOME died at his home in Richmond, Ind., on the 19th of December, 1885, in the eighty-first year of his age. Mr. Biddlecome was born in Deerfield, Oneida Co., N. Y., on the 30th of July, 1805. Of his early life we have no information. He studied for the ministry under the direction of Revs. Stephen R. Smith and W. I. Reese, preached his first sermon at North Bloomfield, N. Y., in May, 1832, and was fellowshipped by the Genesee Association at its session in East Bloomfield, in October of the same year. He was ordained at the session of the New York State Convention at Utica, on the 30th of May, 1833, and shortly after settled with the Societies at Cohocton and Springwater Valley, N. Y. In 1835 he began a two years' pastorate at Perrysburg, Ohio. From 1837 to 1839 he itinerated in Ohio, Virginia, Pennsylvania, New York, New Hampshire, and Maine. In the fall of the latter year he returned to Ohio, preaching in Mt. Vernon, Fredericktown and Newark. From 1841 to 1845, he was pastor at Dayton, then for a year at Montgomery. After a year spent in the state of New York, engaged in settling the estate of his father, he returned to Ohio, making his home at Hamilton, preaching there and in the neighboring towns, and doing a great amount of missionary work in other portions of the State. In 1854 he moved to Griggsville, Ill., where, and at New Salem, he preached for two years. In 1856 he removed to Galesburg, and became the successful financial agent of Lombard University. In 1863 he returned to Dayton, Ohio, removing thence to Richmond, Ind., in 1867. During these years he was a faithful missionary in South-western Ohio and Eastern Indiana. For a while he was financial agent for Smithson College, and subsequently was associated with Prof. P. R. Kendall in the canvass to secure funds for a new building for Clinton Liberal Institute. Having completed this canvass, he resided a few years in Akron, Ohio, and in 1882 returned to Richmond, Ind.

Mr. Biddlecome was of tall and commanding presence, genial in spirit, keen in intellect, interesting in public discourse. He was a powerful debater, unwearied in his efforts to expose error and spread the knowledge of the truth, and a pure man in thought and life. He married Miss Mary A. Edmonson, at Dayton, Ohio, in 1842, and his domestic life was blessed with great happiness. Favored with far more than the ordinary lot of health and strength, he was active in pulpit labors until within a few weeks of his death. He died in great trust, peace, and calmness and leaves an honored memory in the church. His wife and children, two daughters, survive him.

Sumner Ellis, D. D., died at his home in Chicago, Ill., on the 26th of January, 1886, in the fifty-eighth year of his age. The parents of Dr. Ellis were Seth and Susanna Ellis, residents of North Orange, Mass., where he was born on the 17th of May, 1828. His educational advantages the first eighteen years of his life were such as a district school, kept eight or ten weeks during the year, could afford. Subsequently he was at the Academy in New Salem, Mass , one year, and at the Melrose Seminary, West Brattleboro', Vt., three years. His father was for many years the leading member of the North Orange Universalist parish, the minister of which during the son's boyhood, was Rev. Levi Ballou, a brother of Rev. Dr. Hosea Ballou, 2d. His preaching and personal counsels were a great help to the lad during his early years, and an influence on his after life.

During 1850, and until October, 1851, he was a student in theology with Rev. Dr. Hosea Ballou, 2d. He was fellowshipped and ordained by the Boston Association, at the Hanover street Church, on the 11th of November, 1851. In the same service he was installed as junior pastor of the Church, his associate being the venerable father, Sebastian Streeter. His subsequent pastorates were at Salem, Lynn, Boston (Shawmut Avenue, as associate pastor with Rev. Dr. Thayer,) Mass.; Milwaukee, Wis.; Newark, N. J.; Church of the Redeemer, Chicago, Ill.; and later at St. Paul's Church, in the same city.

Between his Salem and Lynn pastorates, — a period of little more than a year and a half, — he pursued special studies in Cambridge, not in formal connection with any of the University classes, but attending lectures in the Academic, Scientific, and Theological departments.

Dr. Ellis developed literary power of a high order early in his professional career, manifest not only in his finished sermons, but in his contributions to the denominational press, and later in his published essays, "At Our Best," his "Hints on Preaching," and his last and most finished work, "The Life of Rev. E. H. Chapin, D.D." His personal presence was commanding, and his refinement and purity were strikingly manifest in his manly face, index as well of his amiability and gentleness. With no love for polemic discourse, preferring rather to present spiritual and practical themes, he could, when occasion required, deal vigorous blows and skillfully wield a trenchant sword. He loved his church, and was loyal to its highest demands.

Dr. Ellis was twice married; first to Miss Mary Jane Morton, on the 25th of October, 1851, who died in May, 1880; and second to Mrs. Addie M. Hall, on the 5th of February, 1883. He had but recently returned, with his wife, from a fifteen months' tour in Europe, when he was severely attacked with typhoid pneumonia, which from the first he regarded as fatal, and calmly surveying the prospect made known his desires with regard to his funeral services and place of burial.

Thomas Baldwin Thayer, D.D., died in Boston, Mass., on the 12th of February, 1886, in the seventy-fourth year of his age. Born in the city of Boston on the 10th of September, 1812, he received the advantages of its public schools and entered Harvard College, which he left at the end of his first year, to become an assistant in the Hawes Grammer School. Shortly after he was associated with Mr. F. P. Leverett, his former instructor in the Boston Latin School, in a private institution designed to prepare students for college. While thus employed, his attention was turned towards the Christian ministry, and his first engagement was as the supply of the pulpit in South Dedham, — now Norwood, — for several months. He was fellowshipped by the Boston Association in June, 1832, and was ordained by the same body, the following

December. In April, 1833, he entered upon a twelve years' pastorate with the First Universalist Society in Lowell. Dating from 1845 he was pastor for six years in Brooklyn, N. Y. He then returned to Lowell where he remained until 1859, when he accepted a call to the Warren Street, — now Shawmut Avenue, — Church in Boston. On the purchase of the Shawmut Avenue property, Rev. Sumner Ellis, was for a little more than a year his associate in the pastoral work. In 1867, Dr. Thayer resigned, and never after resumed pastoral service, though he continued to preach until a short time before his decease.

Dr. Thayer was a man of slight physique, but until 1859, when he met with an accident which permanently crippled him, was of quick movement and uncommon activity. He was blessed with an exceedingly sunshiny spirit, and was eminently serviceable as a Christian helper and comforter of the sick and bereaved. Possessing a well-stored mind, capable of great versatility in his selection and treatment of themes, he was full of kindly sympathy and performed many helpful offices for those who were diffident of their own powers, or were in need of wise counsel for their direction. With the late Rev. Abel C. Thomas he originated The Lowell Offering, a literary magazine of great fame, the contributors to which were operatives in the Lowell cotton mills, some of them afterwards becoming eminent in the world of letters. He was the author of the following books: "Christianity vs. Infidelity," "Bible Class Assistant," "History of the Origin of the Doctrine of Endless Punishment," "Theology of Universalism," "Over the River".

In 1862, Dr. Thayer took the editorial charge of the Universalist Quarterly, a work in which he was intensely interested, and which he, not without success, sought to keep on the high plane of excellence and usefulness where it had been placed by his successor, Rev. Dr. Ballou, and to commend it to the notice of the entire Christian world. His heart was in this work, and his pen was busy in enriching its pages till disease compelled him to lay it down. During several years he was one of the Board of Overseers of Harvard College, and in 1865, Tufts College, in recognition of his abilities, honored itself by conferring on him the honorary D. D. His wife, to whom he was united in 1853, preceded him to the immortal world in 1871. His fatal sickness was brief in duration, and when informed of its nature he calmly dropped his work, and in great resignation and peace passed away from our sight. A daughter survives him.

WARREN JOSHUA HICKS died at his home at Strawberry Point, Iowa, on the 6th of May, 1886, aged 62 years. Mr. Hicks was the son of Jacob and Betsy Hicks, and was born in Readsboro', Vt., the 3d of March, 1824. His education was obtained in the public schools of Readsboro' and the neighboring towns, and he fitted himself by home study for the ministry. He commenced preaching in Whitingham, Vt., during a revival, about the year 1857, and was ordained at the same place, on the 21st of March, 1869. His pastoral settlements were at Whitingham, Searsburg, Jacksonville, and Halifax, in Vermont, and Strawberry Point, in Iowa. To the latter place he moved in 1870, supplying the church there one half of the time; the remainder of his time being spent with the societies of Elkader, Greeley, Manchester, Oelwin, Hazelton, and Castalia, in Iowa, and Blooming Prairie, in Minnesota. He died of pneumonia following a cold contracted while attending a funeral.

Mr. Hicks is described by those who knew him as a valuable laborer in the church, a loving husband and father, a man of conspicuous integrity, and a preacher whose loss is severely felt. He leaves a wife to whom he was united in marriage in 1845, and three daughters.

NELSON DOOLITTLE died at Washington, D. C., on the 6th of May, 1886, aged 81 years. He was born in New Milford township, Susquehanna Co., Penn., the 17th of March, 1805; his father, Benjamin Doolittle of Cheshire, Litchfield, Co., Conn., having moved to the northern part of Pennsylvania in 1798. The early life of Nelson was spent on his father's farm, and he received the common school and academical education of that period. He was early trained in the Presbyterian faith, and on reaching his majority turned his attention toward the profession of medicine, and began to fit himself to practise the healing art. It was not long, however, before his attention was seriously directed towards Universalism. He became convinced of its truth, proclaimed his faith in it and determined to enter its ministry. He studied for his life-work under the direction of Rev. Charles R. Marsh, and was ordained on the 2d of October, 1828, at the session of the Cayuga Association at Sempronius, N. Y. His first preaching was near his home in Pennsylvania, but he soon moved to Chenango Co., N. Y., and was settled at Oxford and Norwich, preaching also in various other places near by. In 1838 he went to Portage Co., Ohio, where his father's family had settled, and gave himself to general missionary service in that State, visiting nearly every portion, and preaching wherever opportunity offered. His labors were greatly blessed, and he succeeded in establishing numerous congregations and churches. In 1841 he settled in Akron, Ohio, where, as pastor and editor of The Glad Tidings, his influence was widely felt. From Akron he moved to Columbus, where he remained about seven years, when, in 1851, he accepted a call to the Callowhill-Street Church in Philadelphia. Completing his work there in 1854 he went to Brooklyn, Susquehanna Co., thus returning to the place of beginning his public career. Here, and in the vicinity, he preached till he had passed his seventieth year, when failing powers compelled him to desist.

Mr. Doolittle was of commanding stature; a strong, pleasant voice; a mind of logical cast, and well stored with biblical knowledge; was full of enthusiasm for the Christian cause, and had the power of interesting and instructing his hearers. He was twice married; first, to Catherine D. Stephens, of Bridgewater, Penn., who died in February, 1860; and second, to Mrs. Christiana Capwell, of Factoryville, Penn., who died in January, 1885. A son and two daughters survive him; and in the home of one his daughters he passed the last days of his mortal life.

Thomas Wheeler died at the residence of his daughter, Forest Hill, Cook Co., Ill., on the 13th of May, 1886, aged 85 years. He was born at New Fane, Vt., the 22d of March, 1801. Pinched by poverty in the days of his early childhood, and so crippled by accident that he could do little or nothing to aid his widowed mother in caring for her numerous children, he became strong enough when 17 years of age to enter an apprenticeship in millwrighting and other mechanical labor, and also to attend during a portion of his time an academy, where he laid the foundation for his professional career. Several seasons he was a teacher in the district schools of his native town and elsewhere. For some months a member of the family of the celebrated Margaret Fuller, in Boston, he gave all his leisure time to study; and, after being in business a few years in Canada, took up the study of medicine, but was soon convinced that his health was too feeble to warrant the exposures and risks which would be incident to that profession. He then came to Boston, and, under the instructions of Rev. Hosea Ballou, prepared for the ministry. Returning to Vermont, in the spring of 1833, he received a letter of fellowship from the Green Mountain Association, and was ordained at Fayetteville, Vt., in the fall of 1834. For several years, dating from 1835, he was preaching at Rochester and Romeo, Mich. Afterwards he was in Ohio; then for ten years at Wilmington, Ill., engaged in business, but preaching as opportunity offered. In 1851 he located in Muskegon, Mich., where his residence continued to be, till within three years of his decease. Here he was honored with positions of trust, which he filled with great honor to himself and advantage to the place. He was a good man and a useful minister.

Jeremiah Gifford died in Wilmington, Vt., on the 7th of September, 1886, aged 67 years. He entered the ministry about the year 1851, and was ordained in 1852. His early ministry was in Monroe, Florida, Savoy, and adjacent towns in Western Massachusetts; then in Wilmington, Readsboro' and Whitingham, Vt. He was greatly respected wherever known, for his moral and religious character; and his services were in great demand in seasons of bereavement; his power in presenting the comforts of the gospel, and his warm sympathizing nature endearing him to those who were in trouble. For many months prior to his decease, he was in failing health, but he kept at his work till near the last, when he was compelled to take to his bed where he lingered a few weeks, and then in great quietness and peace, and apparently without pain, joined the immortals.

George Washington Lawrence died in Janesville, Wis., the 13th of September, 1886, in the seventieth year of his age. He was born in the Susquehanna Valley, Penn., on the 25th of September, 1816. His early education was in the District Schools and in Franklin Academy, afterwards

Hartford University. Leaving the latter, he was for a time engaged in teaching, but in the summer of 1838 went with his father to Wisconsin. After being employed a short time in a printing-office in Chicago, he studied for the ministry, and was ordained in 1843. His first settlement was at Aurora, Ill., where he remained about three years, when failing health compelled him to abandon the pastorate. Since then his labors were those of an itinerant, chiefly in Southern Wisconsin, and particularly in Rock County.

His labors, fidelity, spirituality of life and speech, justly gained for him the reputation of being "a patriarch in our Western Zion, and one of the true saints of our Church." His sympathies were with the masses in their struggles and conflicts, and it may be truly said of him, as is recorded of the Master, "the common people heard him gladly." A philanthropist and reformer, he labored unselfishly in the temperance cause all the days of his activity, and for many years was an intelligent and enthusiastic prohibitionist.

While living in Aurora, in 1847, he married Mrs. Maria Douglas, who died about two years ago. Two sons were born to them, both of whom survive their parents.

PROFESSION OF FAITH.

ARTICLE I. We believe that the Holy Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments contain a revelation of the character of God, and of the duty, interest and final destination of mankind.

ART. II. We believe that there is one God, whose nature is love, revealed in one Lord Jesus Christ, by one Holy Spirit of Grace, who will finally restore the whole family of mankind to holiness and happiness.

ART. III. We believe that holiness and true happiness are inseparably connected, and that believers ought to be careful to maintain order, and practice good works; for these things are good and profitable unto men.

This Profession of Faith was adopted by Universalist believers assembled in Convention at Winchester, N. H., A. D. 1803. It has served, and still continues to serve an excellent purpose, expressing as it does in few words, the fundamental beliefs of the Universalist Church. It is not to be regarded, however, as a full or adequate presentation of Christianity. Many doctrines not herein set forth, some of which are held in common with our brethren of other sects, are preached from Universalist pulpits, and given due importance in the unfolding of God's Word. The Winchester Profession is but the accepted symbol of our Communion—the basis of fellowship in our churches and denomination.

DAYS OF SPECIAL OBSERVANCE,

RECOMMENDED BY THE UNIVERSALIST GENERAL CONVENTION.

1. Christmas Sunday. (The Sunday nearest Christmas.)
2. Easter Sunday, a service of Recognition.
3. The third Sunday in May, as Educational Sunday.
4. The second Sunday in June, as Children's Sunday.
5. The first Sunday in October, as Memorial Sunday.
6. The first Sunday in November, as All-Souls Sunday.

These several Sundays to be observed each year by Pastors and Churches for the purposes designated by the topics suggested.

UNIVERSALIST REGISTER, 1888.

In compiling the facts mentioned in the following pages the editor has aimed to make the Register a reliable reference-book in regard to our Conventions, Associations, Parishes, Churches, Colleges and other institutions and organizations auxiliary to, or in a general way connected with, the Universalist Church; and also to give reliable information concerning the residence of each and every preacher. Thanks to the interest manifested in this purpose by many a degree of success has been obtained; but it must be confessed that the accuracy which ought to characterize such a Register cannot be claimed, and will not be realized, while those who alone have the power to furnish the necessary data withhold it. It would be an easy task to each pastor or stated supply of a parish to give the information asked for in regard to his Parish, Church, Sunday School and Parish Property; but, unfortunately, there are many who never attempt it. In the summer of 1887 about 850 return postal cards were sent to Pastors and other Church Officials, seeking information which might have been given with little or no trouble by those to whom they were addressed. Four hundred and twenty responses were received, 430 have not been heard from. If all had answered, the Register now in your hand would have accurately represented the condition of our Churches, and the location of our Clergymen on the 1st of October last.

Several of the secretaries of State Conventions have rendered substantial aid; their efforts are highly appreciated, gratefully acknowledged, and their continued assistance is earnestly solicited. The example set by these officials in Ohio and Indiana in forwarding complete lists of clergymen in fellowship with these respective Conventions is commended to the notice of other secretaries, as furnishing the only reliable basis for the distinction between ministers in fellowship and those not in formal fellowship. In many instances these reports of secretaries also furnish — owing to the neglect of preachers as just mentioned — the latest information available to the editor in regard to the statistics of Parishes, Churches, Sunday Schools and Property. But while such information is gratefully received, and, in the absence of reports direct from pastors, is gladly used, it is not, for the purposes of this Register, wholly satisfactory, for the reason that in many instances it is a copy of figures and statements returned to the Secretary of the General Convention for the year ending the previous December; in other instances it is based on reports collected in advance of the sessions of the respective Conventions, and therefore represents the condition of the parishes and their organizations at a time quite remote from the issue of the Register, — in not a few instances several months before its publication.

If all interested will be so minded, the Register can represent our condition accurately up to October preceding the year of its date. Hereafter the portion of the Register giving the statistics of Conventions and Parishes will be put in the hands of the printer on the 10th day of October. The Alphabetical List of Preachers will be open to corrections until the first day of November.

Universalist Register for 1888.

THE GENERAL CONVENTION.

"The Universalist General Convention," having jurisdiction over the ecclesiastical organizations of the Universalist Church in the United States and Canadian Provinces, meets annually. The session for 1888 will be held in the city of Chicago on Wednesday, October 24. Preacher of the Occasional Sermon, Rev. C. H. Eaton, D. D. The Convention is composed of the Presidents (or, in their absence, the Vice-Presidents) and Secretaries of the State Conventions, and of clerical and lay delegates from the State Conventions, each State being entitled to one clerical and two lay delegates, and to an additional number of each class of delegates in proportion to the aggregate of its parishes and clergymen. At least four parishes must be organized and established in a State before a State Convention can be formed; but a less number of parishes may unite to choose one delegate, clerical or lay, to represent them in the General Convention, and if there be but one parish so situated it is entitled to one delegate. In all such States or territories the General Convention has original jurisdiction.

All laws relating to fellowship, ordination and discipline originate in the General Convention, and it is the final court of appeal in all cases of dispute or difficulty between State Conventions. It is an incorporated body, empowered to hold real and personal estate to the value of five hundred thousand dollars, "to be devoted exclusively to the diffusion of Christian knowledge, by means of missionaries, publications and other agencies." In the interim of sessions the interests of the Convention are watched over and managed by a Board of Trustees. The funds of the Convention, as reported to the annual session, October, 1887, aggregate $177,726.58, and are distributed as follows: —

I. The Murray Centenary Fund, created in 1870 as a memorial of the one hundredth anniversary of Rev. John Murray's first sermon in America, $125,449.53. The income of this fund is used "in the aid of theological students, the distribution of Universalist literature, church extension and the missionary cause."

II. The Theological Scholarship Fund. This fund is created by the repayment of loans made to theological students. It now amounts to $27,298.62, and the income is appropriated to loans to new students.

III. Church Extension Fund. Started in 1884 on the modest foundation of $210, this fund, the income of which is to be devoted as its name indicates, now amounts to $4,084.79.

IV. Gunn Ministerial Relief Fund. The late John G. Gunn of New York bequeathed to the Convention the sum of $8,000, "to create a fund for the relief, support and maintenance of needy clergymen, their widows and families, of the Universalist denomination," except those in fellowship through the New York State Convention, which has an endowment for that purpose. The fund now amounts to $10,854.85.

V. Ada Tibbetts Memorial Fund. During the year 1886 the Rev. A. Tibbetts, of Urbana, Ill., one of the early graduates of the Canton Theological School, conveyed to the Convention, in fee simple, 200 acres of farm land in Champaign County, Ill., moderately valued at $60 per acre, subject to a lien of $4,100, on condition that he is to have the use, occupancy and income of the property during his natural life; and that perpetually thereafter one-tenth of the income shall be added annually to the principal of the fund, the remaining nine-tenths to be applied, at the discretion of the Trustees, to the purposes of the Convention. The value of the property over and above the lien is $7,900.

VI. Waverly (Iowa) Fund. $800.

VII. Oshkosh (Wis.) Fund. $1,338.79.

The aggregate increase of the Convention funds during the Convention year 1886–7 was $6,807.90. The appropriations for the Convention year 1887–8 are $17,500, with whatever surplus of income from any source may be deemed best by the Trustees.

Dating from 1875 the Association has, during a large portion of the time, supported a Missionary in Scotland. Revs. Marion Crosley, J. W. Hanson, D. D., and Caroline A. Soule—the latter still in the field—have been so employed. It also shares with the General Convention in sustaining a Missionary in Texas. It has published and distributed editions of sixty-eight valuable tracts, aggregating 4,500,000 pages.

The Association meets annually at the time and place of the session of the General Convention, and special meetings are held during the year in connection with the sessions of the State Convention where its work is organized. It is supported by annual, life and patron memberships, and by voluntary contributions. Annual memberships, $1; life memberships, $25; patron, $100. It reported at its annual meeting in October, 1887, total receipts for the year, $4,149.57; disbursements, $1,585.91; permanent fund, $7,467.00.

It has a library of 2,800 volumes, about 1,000 pamphlets, and many important manuscripts and papers. It is sustained by voluntary contributions, an annual collection at the session of the General Convention, and membership fees. Dr. Chapin, was established for the purpose of providing a home and support for aged and infirm men and women. It has an attractive edifice, well adapted for its beneficent work, situated on Sixty-sixth Street, near Lexington Avenue, New York City. Its endowment now amounts to $145,000. The expenditure for the year 1886–87 was $12,713.37. THE BREVOORT MISSION, New York, was organized — the School in 1858, the Society in 1869 — "for the purpose of establishing and continuing a free Christian Church in the city of New York, for the worship of One Infinite God as the Creator and Ruler of the universe; in which shal. be preached and taught the Gospel of Jesus Christ, revealing the Universal Fatherhood of God, the immortality of the human soul, the inevitable punishment of sin, and the sure reward of obedience, as present and ever-living principles; and a sublime faith in the future eternal holiness and happiness of all." It has a fund which was founded by the Mission School and increased by subscriptions and the proceeds of a fair held by the Universalist Churches of the city about 1868. This fund was invested in the purchase of "Brevoort Hall," the old home of the Mission School, from rentals of which all expenses are fully met, including those of the Sunday School.

STATISTICS.

IN THE FOLLOWING CLASSIFICATION BY STATES AND TERRITORIES A TABULAR EXHIBIT OF UNIVERSALIST PARISHES, CHURCHES AND SUNDAY-SCHOOLS IS SHOWN. INFORMATION RESPECTING STATE CONVENTIONS IS ALSO GIVEN.

[The location of parishes according to post-office address is shown in the first column; where a fraction appears after the name of a parish it indicates that preaching services are held part of the time; (oc.) denotes that there is only occasional preaching; (dor.) that the Society is inactive. The number of families included in the respective parishes is given under the proper heading. The date of organization both of Churches and Sunday-schools is indicated in separate columns, with the membership of each organization. Under the head of "Church Edifices," the date of dedication is given when known. Un. denotes that the parish is part owner in a union house of worship; the abbreviations br. (brick), st. (stone), w. (wood), indicate the material of the structure; prop. shows that the parish holds other property besides a church edifice. Under the head of "Values" appears the amount of all property after deducting indebtedness. In the column designated "Preachers" the names of pastors or regular supplies are given. If the name is in italics the preacher is a licentiate; parallels (||) show that he is not in the Universalist fellowship.]

The statistics are taken from the official reports of the several State Convention Secretaries, as far as practicable, but modified by reports of later date direct from the pastors or preachers. In the absence of information of recent date from either of the above sources, changes are noted as indicated in the denominational papers.

SCOTLAND.

The Universalists of Scotland, in 1875, organized a Convention which meets annually on the last Saturday in May. It is a small body composed of only two churches, — one in Glasgow and the other in Larbert. The church at Larbert owns the building in which it worships, and is known as the Church of the Redeemer. That at Glasgow worships in a hall at the Glasgow Cross and is known as St. Paul's Universalist Church. Services are held regularly at both places, — in Larbert mostly by lay-preachers and in Glasgow by American missionaries, sent over by the Woman's Centenary Association, which has given generous support to the cause of Universalism in Scotland. There are several preaching stations and much unorganized Universalism. The officers of the Scotland Convention are: Honorary Presidents — Rev. J. W. Hanson, D.D., and Rev. C. A. Soule: Pres. — Andrew Ure; Vice-Pres. — A. Gardiner; Sec. — John Currie, 39 Hope Street, Glasgow; Treas. — William Bogle; Trus. — Messrs. Roughead, Binnie, Smith, of Larbert, Hamilton and Sinclair of Glasgow; Missionary — Rev. Caroline A. Soule, 74 South Shamrock St., Glasgow, S. S.

Vice-Pres. Woman's Centenary Association — Miss Mary Mitchell, 24 Howard St., Glasgow.

St. Paul's Universalist Church worships (at 11 A.M., 2 and 7 P.M.) every Sunday at No. 9 Watson St., Glasgow. Number of families, thirty-six; church of one hundred and four members, organized in March, 1879; Sunday school organized in June, 1879, thirty-six members; property, $200.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S MISSIONARY ASSOCIATIONS.

For the purpose of interesting the young people of the Universalist Church in the realization and discharge of their obligations, the General Convention has drafted the plan of a Young People's Missionary Association. All the young people of a Universalist parish of the age of twelve years and upwards are eligible to membership. After paying all incidental expenses of the club, for which purpose each member pays into the treasury an annual sum not less than twenty-five cents, the net revenues of the Association, from whatever source received, are divided equally between the General Convention and the State Convention in whose jurisdiction the Association may be located. Thirty of these Associations are already formed, located as follows: —

1. St. Paul's, Chicago, Ill. Sec., Miss P. Strader, 2428 Michigan Av.

THE DIVINITY SCHOOL OF TUFTS COLLEGE.

Faculty. — Rev. E. H. Capen, D. D., President; Rev. T. J. Sawyer, D. D., Packard Professor of Christian Theology; Rev. C. H. Leonard, D. D., Professor of Homiletics and Pastoral Theology; W. G. Tousey, A. M., D. B., Professor of Psychology and Natural Theology; Rev. G. T. Knight, A. M., D. B., Professor of Church History: Rev. G. M. Harmon, A. M., D. B., Assistant Professor of Theology; Moses T. Brown, A. M., Professor of Oratory; Rev. E. C. Bolles, D. D., Rev. A. A. Miner, D. D., Rev. Henry I. Cushman, Rev. G. T. Flanders, D. D., Lecturers.

Candidates must bring testimonials as to character, and avow their purpose to devote their lives to the Christian ministry. Bachelors of Art are admitted without examination. Other candidates are examined in Greek, and in the other branches usually taught in the best high schools and academies. The full Collegiate course, as preliminary, is recommended to those who contemplate theological studies; but, since the circumstances of many earnest and capable men forbid so extensive preparation, a four years' Theological course has been provided. This course permits the introduction of branches not strictly professional, and yet of a fundamental character, and of the highest disciplinary value. It is the policy of the school to encourage the judicious use of the important facilities which the proximity of the college to an intellectual centre like Boston affords, — libraries, cabinets, lectures, the teachings and methods of the most noted preachers of New England.

The degree of D. B. is conferred upon A. B.'s who take the full course of three years, and upon others who make equivalent attainments. To others taking the four years' course a suitable certificate is given.

The necessary expenses will not exceed $200 a year. Tuition, room-rent, use of furniture, free. Students may add to their resources by preaching during the year and a half previous to graduation. The General Convention of Universalists aids students by a system of loans.

Those completing the full course will receive the degree of B. D.

All departments of the University are open to students of Theology without charge. The only expense is for board and books, which may be so reduced by beneficiary funds as to place the advantages of the Theological School within the reach of all who desire them.

The Calendar of the Theological School corresponds with that of other departments of the University.

CLINTON LIBERAL INSTITUTE.

This institution, founded at Clinton, N. Y., in 1831, was moved to Fort Plain, N. Y., in 1879, and came into the possession of the buildings and grounds formerly known as the Fort Plain Seminary and Collegiate Institute. The present buildings are practically new and fitted with all modern conveniences. They are warmed by steam and lighted by gas, and afford excellent accommodations for 150 boarding pupils.

Competent judges have pronounced them the finest of their kind in the State. Recent improvements include the new Porter Business College room, fitted up at an expense of $1,000; the introduction of entirely new plumbing, costing over $1,200, and connection with the village water-works, by which an unfailing supply of pure water is insured. The Business College has a complete equipment of desks, offices, etc. The Boys' Gymnasium, erected six years ago, is a two-story brick structure, 76x40 feet. Besides having four bowling-alleys it is well supplied with the usual apparatus. It has proved valuable in many ways. The Ladies' Gymnasium is a room 56 feet long, opening from the chapel. The young ladies have daily Calisthenics, under the supervision of Miss Cora M. Wheeler. The Institute is an admirably equipped school for young men and women. It aims to furnish advantages equal to the best to be found elsewhere and at the same time make the expense to students as low as will permit the accomplishment of this object. All the departments of academic training, as of the Classics, Sciences and Mathematics, are in the charge of instructors whose training and experience, as well as ability, qualify them for their work.

In the department of Modern Languages students may acquire a speaking mastery of German, French and Italian. Piano Music is in the charge of Professor Carl Bodel, a graduate, class of 1870, of the Royal Conservatory of Music in Stockholm, Sweden. Vocal Music is taught by Miss Lillian Reynolds, recently the soprano in the choir of Immanuel Church, Boston, and for years a pupil of Geo. L. Osgood. The course in Elocution, as conducted by Miss C. M. Wheeler, is unreservedly recommended to those who

NECROLOGY.

ELEVEN of our Clergymen have died since the Register for 1887 went to press. Such notice of their life and labors as is possible from the data obtained, and the limited space afforded in these pages, is here given.

GEORGE EDWIN FORBES died of pneumonia, at Potsdam, N. Y., on the 3d of January, 1887, in the forty-second year of his age. Mr. Forbes was born in Paris, Me., the 3d of November, 1845. He was educated in the common schools and at Paris Hill Academy. For a short time he was engaged in secular business, but in September, 1870, he entered the Canton Theological School, from which he graduated in June, 1873, and a month later accepted an invitation to the pastorate of the church in Marshfield, Vt. Here he was ordained on the 12th of February, 1874, and here remained as pastor till 1880. His subsequent pastoral settlements were Calais, Vt., 1880–82; New Gloucester, Me., 1882–83; Canton, N. Y., 1883–87. He was a man of great industry, faithful and conscientious in the discharge of every duty, and enjoyed the esteem of all the people where his lot was cast. His end was peaceful and happy. A wife and one son survive him.

G. M. CADE, M. D., died at Ingram, Texas, on the 17th of March, 1887, in the sixty-sixth year of his age. He was born in Marengo County, Alabama, on the 9th of November, 1821, but resided with his grandfather in Wilkes County, Ga., till 1858. At the close of the war of 1861–65 he moved to Texas, where he engaged in the practice of medicine. He became a believer in Universalism forty-five years ago, and was for the last seven or eight years of his life a lay preacher licensed by the General Convention. He was an acceptable expounder of the faith, and exemplified its blessed influence in his daily life. An invalid the last year of his life, he was patient and resigned, and was comforted and happy when summoned hence.

JOHN GREENLEAF ADAMS, D. D., died at his home at Melrose Highlands, Mass., on the 4th of May, 1887, in the seventy-seventh year of his age. Born in Portsmouth, N. H., on the 30th of July, 1810, he received the chief part of his school education in his native city. He fitted for the ministry under the direction of Rev. S. Brimblecome and Rev. A. A. Folsom and was ordained at Rumney, N. H., the 12th of June, 1833. His pastoral settlements were in Claremont, N. H., Malden, Worcester and Lowell, Mass., Providence, R. I., and Cincinnati, Ohio. During his residence in New Hampshire he edited the Star in the East, and for several years after his removal to Massachusetts was editor of The Gospel Teacher, also of the Myrtle and the Sunday School Helper. Early interested in philanthropic and moral reforms, he published two books in their illustration and defence, — "Our Day," and the "Fountain," — the late Rev. Dr. Chapin being associated with him in the publication of the latter, as he was also in the compilation of "Hymns for Christian Devotion." Dr. Adams was the author of about twenty books and pamphlets, chiefly of Universalist literature. He was a Universalist in all his convictions and sympathies, and was untiring in his efforts for the spread of the knowledge of the truth. He was an eloquent preacher, exceptionally gifted in prayer, of a constantly devout spirit, and lived a life of consistent Christian motive and action. His final sickness was several months in duration and was at times excruciatingly painful, but he was uncomplaining, constantly recognizing the love of the Father and trusting without a doubt or murmur in his wisdom and goodness. He longed to be at rest, but waited the will of God in his release. Dr. Adams was twice married and leaves a widow, a daughter and two sons.

HARLOW P. SAGE died at Huntington, Ohio, May 17, 1887, in the eighty-seventh year of his age. He had been a resident of Huntington, Lorain Co., Ohio, since 1826. In early life he was an Episcopalian, but when about thirty-five years of age became a convert to Universalism and was ordained to its ministry in 1836. For a number of years the infirmities of age prevented his preaching, but until within a year of his death he was a constant attendant on public religious services and at Sunday school. The fatal disease — cancer of the face — caused him months of acute suffering. Death came as a welcomed angel of mercy.

THEODORE DWIGHT COOK died in Utica, N. Y., on the 24th of May, 1887, in the seventy-fourth year of his age. He was born at Marcellus, Onandago Co., N. Y., on the 31st of January, 1814. After pursuing classical and academic studies at Skeneateles and Auburn, Mr. Cook prepared for the ministry under Rev. Geo. W. Montgomery, of Rochester. His first settlement was at Gaines, Orleans Co., where he was ordained on the 14th of June, 1838. Before the close of that year he moved to Utica, and thence to Philadelphia as pastor of the Second Universalist Church in 1841 (while in Philadelphia he was one of the editors of the Nazarene), in 1844 to South Boston, 1852 to Providence, R. I., and in 1869 to Utica again. He was a man of sterling character, and was useful in his several pastorates. For the last ten or more years of his life he was engaged as supply for several pulpits in Central New York. His wife and three of his seven children survive him.

HENRY GIFFORD died at Columbus, Ohio, on the 31st of May, 1887, in his seventy-eighth year. He was born in Albany, N. Y., the 25th of March, 1810, and was a mechanic in his early manhood. He studied for the ministry under the direction of Rev. Dr. I. D. Williamson, and preached his first sermon at Duanesburgh, N. Y., in July, 1832. His first settlement was at Shrewsbury, Vt., in January, 1833. Here he was ordained on the 14th of November, the same year. In 1837 he took charge of the Universalist Society in Wrentham, Mass., but returned to Shrewsbury in the spring of 1839. A year later he went to Oxford, Ohio, and in 1843 to Erie, Pa. This was his last pastorate. While in Erie the lake winds sadly affected his throat, causing him to lose his voice, so as to be unable to speak in public for three years. Subsequently he so far recovered as to be able to preach occasionally. Before this affliction came upon him he was in great demand as a preacher and debater, always successful in either position. He was a good man, a faithful and efficient pioneer.

NELSON SNELL died at his home in Vine Valley, N. Y., the 15th of June, 1887, in the sixty-sixth year of his age. He was born in Danube, Montgomery Co., N. Y., on the 20th of February, 1822, and obtained his education at the Academy in Cazenovia and at the Clinton Liberal Institute. His theological studies were pursued at the latter place under the direction of Rev. Dr. T. J. Sawyer. He was ordained in 1848, and his pastorates were, in their order, at Minden, Kellogsville, Mottville, New York, Lockport and Hudson, all in his native State. He was a good sermonizer, a man of unimpeachable character, and genial and hearty in his intercourse with his brethren.

Daniel Brewer, born the 8th of January, 1811, died at Gordon, Georgia, the 26th of July, 1887. He was a primitive Baptist in his early life, but became a Universalist about thirty-five years ago. He was ordained the 3d of October, 1869, at a session of the Universalist Convention at the Plains of Dara, Georgia. Never settled as pastor, he preached as opportunity offered, — in schoolhouses, groves and private residences. His educational privileges were small, but he had strong native powers, a tenacious memory and was familiar with the Scriptures. His faith was firmly anchored in the Divine Word, and was the chief theme of his conversation so long as the power of speech was granted him. A man of pure life, of great charity and of untiring zeal for the spread of the knowledge of the truth.

Edwin Burnham Burgess died in Wakefield, Mass., on the 20th of August, 1887, aged fifty-nine. A mechanic in early manhood, and brought up in the belief of the Baptist faith, he came, through great struggles of mind and diligent searching of the Scriptures, to accept the Universalist interpretation of the Gospel. Relinquishing his secular business he pursued a course of study in Tufts College Divinity School, was licensed to preach in 1875 and was ordained at Claremont, N. H., the 4th of October, 1877. His pastoral settlements were at Marlborough, N. H., Hammond, Newport and Middleville, N. Y. He was happy in his faith and helped many out of the gloom of unbelief into the light and joy of the truth. For several months in failing health, he looked forward to death with great longing and bade his wife rejoice that the hour of his departure had come. He was an earnest and faithful preacher and a good man.

THOMAS JONES, born near Edinburgh, Scotland, the 16th of February, 1805, died at Phillipi, West Va., on the 3d of September, 1887. Without any especial advantages from schools, Mr. Jones was a painstaking student all his days, and was noted among his neighbors for his varied and accurate knowledge. Brought up a Presbyterian, he became a Universalist more than half a century ago, and formally united with the Universalist Church in 1842. We are not informed of the date of his ordination, but are told that he never had pastoral charge of a church, but preached in various parts of Virginia, as opportunity offered. He was retiring in his habits, but was an acceptable preacher and firm in his religious faith, and died in full assurance of its truth, rejoicing that he was soon to meet his companion who had but a few months before been called from earth. The testimony of all who knew him is that "he was a good man and full of the Holy Spirit."

JOSIAH MARVIN, of St. Paul, Minn., died at the home of his sister in his native place, Alstead, N. H., on the 19th of September, 1887, in the sixty-ninth year of his age. He fitted for the ministry under the direction of Rev. Charles Woohouse, at Westmoreland, N. H., in which town he preached his first sermon in 1841. He was ordained in 1844, and his pastorates were in Stoneham, Saugus, Fitchburg, Mass.; Springfield, Ill.; Springfield, Mass.; St. Paul, Minn., twice; and Nashua, N. H. He was a zealous and successful worker in each place. For about two years before his death he had been in failing health. He was of a cheerful and loving disposition, pure in life and of great usefulness as a Christian pastor and preacher.

UNIVERSALIST REGISTER, 1889.

This Year-Book is valuable only as it is made a reliable Register of facts in regard to our Conventions, Associations, Parishes, Churches, Sunday-Schools, Academies and Colleges, and other institutions and organizations auxiliary to, or in a general way connected with, the Universalist Church; and also gives accurate information concerning the residence of each and every preacher. To reach these results the Publishing House and the editor have spared no efforts that were likely to issue in success. And, thanks to the interest which many have manifested, a degree of accuracy has been reached; but it must be confessed that the fullness and perfection which ought to characterize such a Register is greatly impaired by the neglect of many preachers to fill out and return the blanks which have been sent.

As in former years, several of the Secretaries of State Conventions have rendered substantial aid. Their efforts are highly appreciated and gratefully acknowledged. In the special particular of furnishing complete lists of clergymen in fellowship in the respective Conventions, this aid has been valuable; and in not a few instances these reports of Secretaries also furnish — owing to the neglect of preachers as just mentioned — the latest information available to the editor in regard to the statistics of Parishes, Churches, Sunday-Schools and Property. But while such information is gratefully received, and, in the absence of reports direct from pastors, is gladly used, it is not, for the purposes of this Register, wholly satisfactory, for the reason that in many instances it is a copy of figures and statements returned to the Secretary of the General Convention for the year ending the previous December; in other instances it is based on reports collected in advance of the sessions of the respective Conventions, and therefore represents the condition of the parishes and their organizations at a time quite remote from the issue of the Register, — in not a few instances, several months before its publication.

If all interested will be so minded, the Register can represent our condition accurately up to October preceding the year of its date. Let it be borne in mind that the portion of the Register giving the statistics of Conventions and Parishes is put in the hands of the printer on the tenth day of October. The Alphabetical List of Preachers will be open to corrections until the first day of November.

ECLIPSES FOR THE YEAR 1889.

There will be five Eclipses this year, three of the Sun and two of the Moon.

II. A Partial Eclipse of the Moon, January 16 and 17, visible as follows: Begins January 16, 10h. 58.2 m. P.M.; middle January 17, 0h. 29.7m. A.M.; ends January 17, 2h. 1.2m A.M.

III. An Annular Eclipse of the Sun, June 28, invisible in New England, but visible in the southern portions of Asia and Africa and in the South Atlantic and Indian Oceans.

IV. A Partial Eclipse of the Moon, July 12, invisible in New England, as the eclipse ends 2¼ hours before sunset, but visible in Europe, Asia, Africa, the Atlantic Ocean, and the easterly portion of South America.

V. A Total Eclipse of the Sun, December 22, invisible in New England, but visible in South America, Asia and Africa, as well as in the Atlantic, Pacific and Indian Oceans, and just grazing the eastern edge of portions of the United States.

Two of the three eclipses of the Sun this year are quite remarkable from the fact that the first comes close to the western edge of New England, while the last runs just outside of Cape Cod.

Universalist Register for 1889.

THE GENERAL CONVENTION.

"The Universalist General Convention," having jurisdiction over the ecclesiastical organizations of the Universalist Church in the United States and Canadian Provinces, meets annually. The session for 1889 will be held in the city of Lynn, Mass., on Wednesday, October 23. Preacher of the Occasional Sermon, Rev. O. Cone, D.D. The Convention is composed of the Presidents (or, in their absence, the Vice-Presidents) and Secretaries of the State Conventions, and of clerical and lay delegates from the State Conventions, each State being entitled to one clerical and two lay delegates, and to an additional number of each class of delegates in proportion to the aggregate of its parishes and clergymen. At least four parishes must be organized and established in a State before a State Convention can be formed; but a less number of parishes may unite to choose one delegate, clerical or lay, to represent them in the General Convention, and if there be but one parish so situated it is entitled to one delegate. In all such States or Territories the General Convention has original jurisdiction.

All laws relating to fellowship, ordination and discipline originate in the General Convention, and it is the final court of appeal in all cases of dispute or difficulty between State Conventions. It is an incorporated body, empowered to hold real and personal estate to the value of five hundred thousand dollars, "to be devoted exclusively to the diffusion of Christian knowledge, by means of missionaries, publications and other agencies." In the interim of sessions the interests of the Convention are watched over and managed by a Board of Trustees. The funds of the Convention as reported to the annual session, October, 1888, aggregate $193,559.47, and are distributed as follows:—

I. The Murray Centenary Fund, created in 1870 as a memorial of the one hundredth anniversary of Rev. John Murray's first sermon in America, $125,549.53. The income of this fund is used "in the aid of theological students, the distribution of Universalist literature, church extension and the missionary cause."

II. The Theological Scholarship Fund. This fund is created by the payment of loans made to theological students. It now amounts to $29,924.80, and the income is appropriated to loans to new students.

III. Church Extension Fund. Started in 1884 on the modest foundation of $210, this fund, the income of which is to be devoted as its name indicates, now amounts to $4,148.83.

IV. Gunn Ministerial Relief Fund. The late John G. Gunn of New York bequeathed to the Convention the sum of $8,000, "to create a fund for the relief, support and maintenance of needy clergymen, their widows and families, of the Universalist denomination," except those in fellowship through the New York State Convention, which has an endowment for that purpose. The fund now amounts to $11,213.53.

V. Ada Tibbetts Memorial Fund: During the year 1886 the Rev. A. Tibbetts of Urbana, Ill., one of the early graduates of the Canton Theological School, conveyed to the Convention, in fee simple, 200 acres of farm land in Champaign County, Ill., moderately valued at $60 per acre, subject to a lien of $4,100, on condition that he is to have the use, occupancy and income of the property during his natural life; and that perpetually thereafter one-tenth of the income shall be added annually to the principal of the fund, the remaining nine-tenths to be applied, at the discretion of the Trustees, to the purposes of the Convention. He has since conveyed to the Convention a farm in Ford County, Ill., valued at $3,600, subject to a lien of $2,000. The value of the property over and above the liens is $9,500.

VI. Waverly (Iowa) Fund. $800.

VII. Oshkosh (Wis.) Fund. $1,422.78.

VIII. G. L. Demarest Reserve Fund. $11,000.

The aggregate increase of the Convention funds during the Convention year 1887–88 was $15,832.89. The appropriations for the Convention year 1888–89 are $19,000, with whatever surplus of income from any source may be deemed best by the Trustees.

Dating from 1875 the Association has, during a large portion of the time, supported a Missionary in Scotland. Revs. Marion Crosley, J. W. Hanson, D.D., and Caroline A. Soule — the latter still in the field — have been so employed. It also shares with the General Convention in sustaining a Missionary in Texas. It has published and distributed editions of sixty-eight valuable tracts, aggregating 5,000,000 pages.

The Association meets annually at the time and place of the session of the General Convention, and special meetings are held during the year in connection with the sessions of the State Convention where its work is organized. It is supported by annual, life and patron memberships, and by voluntary contributions. Annual memberships, $1; life memberships, $25; patron, $100. It reported to the General Convention in October, 1888, total receipts for the year, $3,147.40; disbursements, $2,240.41; permanent fund, $7,467.

The foregoing list of vice-presidents was not received until after the names appended to the statistics of the respective State Conventions were printed. Where there is any difference, the names given above are to be regarded as the correct ones.

THE UNIVERSALIST HISTORICAL SOCIETY was formed in 1834. Officers for 1888–89: President — Rev. Richard Eddy, D.D., Melrose, Mass.; Vice-President — Hon. Olney Arnold, Pawtucket, R. THE CHAPIN HOME, NEW YORK, founded under the auspices of members of the Church of the Divine Paternity, and named for its first pastor, the late Rev. Dr. Chapin, was established for the purpose of providing a home and support for aged and infirm men and women. It has an attractive edifice, well adapted for its beneficent work, situated on Sixty-sixth St., near Lexington Av., New York City. Its endowment now amounts to $145,000. The expenditure for the year 1887–88 was $12,713.37. The Home has fifty-six inmates. President — Mrs. C. H. De Lamater; Corresponding Secretary — Mrs. E. T. THE BREVOORT MISSION, New York, was organized — the School in 1858, the Society in 1869 — "for the purpose of establishing and continuing a free Christian Church in the city of New York, for the worship of One Infinite God as the Creator and Ruler of the universe; in which shall be preached and taught the Gospel of Jesus Christ, revealing the Universal Fatherhood of God, the immortality of the human soul, the inevitable punishment of sin, and the sure reward of obedience, as present and ever-living principles; and a sublime faith in the future eternal holiness and happiness of all." It has a fund which was founded by the Mission School, and increased by subscriptions and the proceeds of a fair held by the Universalist Churches of the city about 1868. This fund was invested in the purchase of "Brevoort Hall," the old home of the Mission School, from rentals of which all expenses are fully met, including those of the Sunday-School.

The officers are: President — William Montross; Treasurer — Calvin G. Lippencott; Secretary — C. A. Needham; Manager — George G. Needham, M.D.; Trustees — A. C. Hewlett, S. G. Hull, C. A. Needham.

STATISTICS.

IN THE FOLLOWING CLASSIFICATION BY STATES AND TERRITORIES A TABULAR EXHIBIT OF UNIVERSALIST PARISHES, CHURCHES AND SUNDAY-SCHOOLS IS SHOWN. INFORMATION RESPECTING STATE CONVENTIONS IS ALSO GIVEN.

[The location of parishes according to post-office address is shown in the first column; where a fraction appears after the name of a parish it indicates that preaching services are held part of the time; (oc.) denotes that there is only occasional preaching; (m.) monthly services; (dor.) that the society is inactive. The number of families included in the respective parishes is given under the proper heading. The date of organization both of Churches and Sunday-schools is indicated in separate columns, with the membership of each organization. Under the head of "Church Edifices," the date of dedications is given when known. Un. denotes that the parish is part owner in a union house of worship; the abbreviations br. (brick), st. (stone), w. (wood), indicate the material of the structure; prop. shows that the parish holds other property besides a church edifice. Under the head of "Values" appears the amount of all property after deducting indebtedness. In the column designated "Preachers" the names of pastors or regular supplies are given. If the name is in italics the preacher is a licentiate; parallels (||) show that he is not in the Universalist fellowship.]

The statistics are taken from reports direct from the pastors or preachers, and from official reports of State Convention Secretaries, where such have been received. In the absence of information of recent date from either of the above sources, changes are noted as indicated in the denominational papers; and in the absence of any recent information, the figures of last year are used.

The State Convention was organized in 1874, and includes the ministers and churches in Oregon and Washington Territory. It meets on the Thursday following the first Sunday in June. Pres. — Rev. A. J. Wigle, Harrisburg; Vice-Pres. — Jennie Brown, Eugene City; Treas. — A. Condra; Sec. — J. C. Cooper, McMinnville; Fellowship Committee — Rev. A. J. Wigle, Rev. W. H. Coquille City, Oregon, owns a church edifice worth $1,200; Rev. W. H. Nosler is the pastor.

Dayton, Washington Territory, also has a church edifice, but no stated preaching.

The First Universalist Church of Oregon, Linn County, has thirty-five members.

Albany is held as missionary ground, and efforts are being made to establish a church there. Rev. A. J. Wigle supplies several of these stations, and is an active worker for the cause. With better organization and more preachers many congregations might be gathered and sustained.

South Carolina.

A church, organized 1877 at Feasterville, is reported as in a live and flourishing condition. It has fifty-eight members, a Sunday-school of about thirty-five members, and a church edifice valued at $400. Also a church of twenty-three members, organized in 1887, at Ninety Six. Rev. D. B. Clayton of Columbia preaches there a part of the time, but spends most of his time in North Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi and West Tennessee.

Tennessee.

There are several places in this State where Universalism is occasionally preached, but no settled pastors, no Sunday-schools, and no church edifices owned wholly by Universalists. Dr. William Hale and Mr. A. C. Bowers, lay preachers, alternately officiate the first Sunday in each month at Free Hill, Eastern Tennessee, where there is a church, organized in 1880, and now numbering twenty-five members, worshipping in a house in which they have an equal interest with another denomination. They also speak elsewhere as opportunity offers. In Middle Tennessee, Rev. W. S. Nolan, a licentiate, and E. B. Hammer, a lay preacher, preach occasionally. Rev. D. B. Clayton preaches more or less in Western Tennessee, where the Universalists at Glimp own an interest in a church edifice occupied by the Baptists.

Texas.

Rev. James Billings, missionary in this State, reports a growing interest in our cause. A State Association was organized in September, 1886. Rev. James Billings, Pres.; Rev. J. K. Street, Forth Worth, Sec.; Mrs. M. C. Billings, Treas. Mr. Billings gives the following as the ministerial strength in Texas: J. B. Cone, Union, Wilson County; A. Van Cleave, Bibb, Comanche County; J. C. Lawhorn, Macdade; J. S. Dunbar, Paige, Bastrop County; A. B. Minnerly, Drop P. O., Danton County; W. H. Motes, Emory, Hays County; J. K. Street, Fort Worth; Phil. B. McCoury, Bend, San Saba County; A. G. Strain, Belton, Bell County; W. R. Robinson, Waco; James Billings; Mrs. M. C. Billings, Hico, Hamilton County; Miss M. F. Dunaway, Blanket, Brown County; J. M. Wright, Farmersville, Collin County; G. W. Rogers, Dublin; Winfield Harpold, Italy, Ellis County. Missionary Fund about $3,000.

SCOTLAND.

The Universalists of Scotland, in 1875, organized a Convention which meets annually on the last Saturday in May. It is a small body, composed of only two churches,—one in Glasgow and the other in Larbert. The church at Larbert owns the building in which it worships, and is known as the Church of the Redeemer. That at Glasgow worships at No. 9 Watson St., and is known as St. Paul's Universalist Church. Services are held regularly at both places, — in Larbert mostly by lay preachers and in Glasgow by Rev. Mrs. Caroline A. Soule. There are several preaching stations and much unorganized Universalism. The officers of the Scotland Convention are: Honorary Presidents — Rev. J. W. Hanson, D.D., and Rev. Mrs. C. A. Soule; Pres. — Andrew Ure; Vice-Pres. — A. Gardiner; Sec. — John Currie, 39 Hope St., Glasgow; Treas. — William Bogle; Trus. — Messrs. Roughead, Binnie, Smith of Larbert, Hamilton and Sinclair of Glasgow; Missionary — Rev. Mrs. Caroline A. Soule, 24 Kelvin Drive, Glasgow, W.

Vice-Pres. Woman's Centenary Association — Miss Mary Mitchell, 24 Howard St., Glasgow.

St. Paul's Universalist Church worships (at 11 A.M., 2 and 7 P.M.) every Sunday at No. 9 Watson St., Glasgow. Number of families, forty; church of one hundred and twenty members, organized in March, 1879; Sunday-school organized in June, 1879, forty members; property, $500.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S MISSIONARY ASSOCIATIONS.

For the purpose of interesting the young people of the Universalist Church in the realization and discharge of their obligations, the General Convention has drafted the plan of a Young People's Missionary Association. All the young people of a Universalist parish of the age of twelve years and upwards are eligible to membership. The object of the Associations is declared to be the religious and intellectual improvement of its members, the promotion of the interests of the Universalist Church, and the rendering of other Christian service. The Associations are auxiliary to the General and State Conventions; and its membership fees and receipts from missionary boxes are to be equally divided between the General and the respective State Conventions. Other receipts may be applied to such specific purpose, missionary or benevolent, as the Associations may direct. Copies of the recommended Constitution may be obtained from Rev. G. L. Demarest, D.D., Secretary, Manchester, N. H. THE DIVINITY SCHOOL OF TUFTS COLLEGE.

Faculty.—Rev. E. H. Capen, D.D., President; Rev. T. J. Sawyer, D.D., Packard Professor of Christian Theology; Rev. C. H. Leonard, D.D., Professor of Homiletics and Pastoral Theology; W. G. Tousey, A.M., D.B., Professor of Psychology and Natural Theology; Rev. G. T. Knight, A.M., D.B., Professor of Church History; Rev. G. M. Harmon, A.M., D.B., Assistant Professor of Theology; Moses T. Candidates must bring testimonials as to character, and avow their purpose to devote their lives to the Christian ministry. Bachelors of Art are admitted without examination. Other candidates are examined in Greek, and in the other branches usually taught in the best high schools and academies. The full Collegiate course, as preliminary, is recommended to those who contemplate theological studies; but, since the circumstances of many earnest and capable men forbid so extensive preparation, a four years' Theological course has been provided. This course permits the introduction of branches not strictly professional, and yet of a fundamental character, and of the highest disciplinary value. It is the policy of the school to encourage the judicious use of the important facilities which the proximity of the college to an intellectual centre like Boston affords,—libraries, cabinets, lectures, the teachings and methods of the most noted preachers of New England.

The degree of D.B. is conferred upon A.B.'s who take the full course of three years, and upon others who make veniences. They are warmed by steam and lighted by gas, and afford excellent accommodations for 150 boarding pupils. The Institute spares its lady pupils the necessity of climbing stairs; a hydraulic elevator for their exclusive use was provided in August, 1888, at an expense of nearly $2,500.

Competent judges have pronounced the buildings the finest of their kind in the State. Recent improvements include the new Porter Business College room, fitted up at an expense of $1,000; the introduction of entirely new plumbing, costing over $1,200, and connection with the village water-works, by which an unfailing supply of pure water is insured. The Business College has a complete equipment of desks, offices, etc. The Boys' Gymnasium, erected seven years ago, is a two-story brick structure, 76x40 feet. Besides having four bowling-alleys, it is well supplied with the usual apparatus. It has proved valuable in many ways. The Ladies' Gymnasium is a room 56 feet long, opening from the chapel. The young ladies have daily Calisthenics, under the supervision of Miss Cora M. Wheeler. The Institute is an admirably equipped school for young men and women. It aims to furnish advantages equal to the best to be found elsewhere, and at the same time make the expense to students as low as will permit the accomplishment of this object. All the departments of academic training, as of the Classics, Sciences and Mathematics, are in the charge of instructors whose training and experience, as well as ability, qualify them for their work.

In the department of Modern Languages students may acquire a speaking mastery of German, French and Italian. Piano Music is in the charge of Professor Carl Bodel, a graduate, class of 1870, of the Royal Conservatory of Music in Stockholm, Sweden. Vocal Music is taught by Miss Lillian Reynolds, recently the soprano in the choir of Immanuel Church, Boston, and for years a pupil of Geo. L. Osgood. The Music Class of 1887–88 numbered 126. The course in Elocution, as conducted by Miss C. M. Wheeler, is unreservedly recommended to those who desire to make a specialty of this study. It is doubtful whether any other seminary in the State affords one equally good. The work in the Art Department is decidedly superior. The Business Course is greatly superior to any offered by exclusively commercial schools. Common English receives particular atten-

The school is open to both sexes, and offers three complete courses of study: English, three years; Classical, three years; and Ladies' Collegiate, four years. The English course fits young gentlemen and ladies for business or the requirements of home life; the Classical course is sufficient for admission to any college in the country; while the Ladies' Collegiate course offers every advantage to those desirous of pursuing an extended study of Latin, German, French and Higher English. Special courses can be taken if desired. Excellent advantages are offered for the study of Music, Elocution, Drawing and Penmanship. Compositions, Declamations, Reading and Spelling are required in each course. All the members of the school receive daily instruction in Light Gymnastics, and the young ladies in Etiquette.

GODDARD SEMINARY.

The seminary is situated at Barre, Vt., six miles from Montpelier, and is easy of access by rail from points within the State or at a distance.

Four courses of study are offered: The Academic course includes a knowledge of the ordinary English branches and the sciences, with at least two years spent on languages. By omitting the languages, an English course is formed similar to the ordinary course in schools of this grade. The College Preparatory course fits the student for any college, while including some useful studies not required for admission. The Collegiate course is designed for such students as do not purpose attending college, but desire the best education a secondary school can give them. There is opportunity in this course, therefore, for studying the Ancient and Modern Languages, Mathematics, Science, English Literature, Rhetoric and History.

Each of the courses occupies four years, and a diploma is given at the completion of any one of them.

Both sexes are admitted. The atmosphere of the school is made as home-like as possible, while suitable restraints are imposed. A multiplicity of rules is avoided, however, much being left to each student's honor and sense of propriety.

The department of Instrumental Music is conducted by Miss L. M. Kendall, whose method of daily lessons results in assured progress. The reputation of this department is

WESTBROOK SEMINARY AND FEMALE COLLEGE.

This is a boarding and day school for both sexes, chartered as Westbrook Seminary in 1831, and opened for instruction in 1834. It is very easy of access, situated in Deering, Me., two and one-half miles from Portland.

The buildings are Goddard Hall for gentlemen, Hersey Hall for ladies, — a dining-hall connecting the two, — the seminary building and a chapel. The Universalist Church is on the seminary grounds.

The boarding and dining halls are heated by steam and have other conveniences, and accommodations for two hundred boarders. The seminary building contains a general school-room, recitation-rooms, laboratory, and a cabinet of minerals and curiosities. The library is in Hersey Hall.

The Institution offers five courses of study: a Common English course for one year, a Higher English for three years, the College Preparatory, the Scientific and the Ladies' Classical course, each of four years. Diplomas are given to those completing any of the higher courses, and degrees are conferred by State authority on ladies who complete either the Scientific or the Ladies' Classical course. Special attention is given to preparing students for college.

Expenses. — Board, including fuel and lights, $3.00 per week. Tuition from $7.50 to $9.50 per term of fourteen weeks. The regular school expenses, not including ornamental branches and modern languages, for the full school year, vary from $155 to $170.

been inactive. On the other hand, the gains seem to be 2,136 families, 973 communicants, 20 church edifices, and $324,206 in valuation of church property. It is not certain that these changes have all been wrought in one year, as some parishes have reported this year that have formerly failed to do so.

NECROLOGY.

Nineteen of our Preachers have died since the Register for 1888 went to press. We present such notice of their life and labors as is possible from the data obtained, and the limited space here afforded.

DAVID COOK DAVIS died at Duanesburg, N. Y., Nov. 10, 1887. He was for many years an active layman in Brooklyn, N. Y., and did not enter the ministry until quite advanced in life, having been ordained in June, 1876, at Braman's Corners, N. Y., where he preached two years; then two or more years at Dexter, in the same State. He had resided at Duanesburg several years. He is described as "a man of fine natural ability and large enthusiasm, greatly devoted to the work of the Church."

JOHN LYON died at Bridgeport, Conn., Dec. 14, 1887, aged 44. Mr. Lyon was born in Glasgow, Scotland, and came to the United States in 1867. In 1871 he took Orders in the Episcopal Church, but withdrew therefrom three years later, and in 1874 became pastor of the Unitarian Church in Ware, Mass., from which he was called to the Universalist Church in Bridgeport, in 1876, where he remained in active and efficient service during the remainder of his life. In 1881 he was chosen Secretary of the Connecticut Convention, in which office he also continued, doing noble service, until death took him away. At the time of his decease, the Bridgeport Standard paid the following worthy tribute to his memory: "Mr. Lyon was a most active worker in his church, and took a deep interest in all the social events connected with it. In the pulpit he was fearless in his attacks upon sin and evil-doers. He commanded the respect of the entire community, was tireless in every good work, and under him his church had reached a high degree of prosperity and usefulness. His death is a general bereavement."

HENRY C. VOSE died in Marion, Mass., Dec. 16, 1887, aged 71. He was born in Stoughton, Mass., Oct. 1, 1816. His preparation for the ministry was under the direction of Rev. William Fishbough, in whose pulpit, in Taunton, he preached his first sermon. Shortly after this he took charge

he became a member of the Universalist Church, then under the charge of Rev. Abner Kneeland. Not long after this he started out as a Lecturer on Language, in which he was successful until sickness forced him to abandon the platform. He had already resolved to enter the ministry as soon as he was able, and so, on recovering his health, he again put himself under the charge of Rev. Mr. Loveland, and entered on a course of study to fit him for his chosen profession.

He was fellowshipped by the General Convention, at its session in Saratoga, N. Y., Sept. 20, 1827, and ordained at Claremont, N. H., May 28, 1828.

After preaching in Newfane, Vt., several months, and teaching school the following winter, besides continuing his studies with Rev. Mr. Loveland, he took charge of the parish in Albany, N. Y., for a short time; then he went to Watertown, Mass.; thence in 1832 to Claremont, N. H.; then to the First Society in Providence, R. I., in 1836; to Bleecker Street, New York, in 1842; Ludlow, Vt., in 1859; Galesburg, Ill., in 1865; Elgin, Ill., in 1871. For two or three years he was pastor at Dubuque, Iowa, though still retaining his residence in Elgin, where his long and useful life was, as to its earthly career, terminated.

No one was more instrumental in establishing our Theological School at Canton, N. Y., than was Mr. Balch. He devoted much time and labor to this object, and succeeded where others could only have failed. He was the author of the first "Manual or Sunday-school Service Book" published by Universalists, the first edition of which was printed in 1837. His other publications were: "Lectures on Language," 1838; "A Grammar of the English Language," 1839; "Ireland as I Saw It," 1849; "A Peculiar People," 1881; besides several pamphlets and tracts.

He was a man of untarnished reputation, always a popular preacher with the masses, and a faithful minister of the Lord Jesus Christ.

David P. Bunn died at Decatur, Ill., Dec. 28, 1887, in his 76th year, having been born in Ross County, Ohio, Aug. 16, 1812. Educated in the tenets of the Methodist Church, of which he was for several years a member, he became a Universalist not far from 1840, and began preaching Uni-

FREDERICK PAGE died at Bartonville, Vt., Jan. 28, 1888, aged 89. Mr. Page came to us from the Baptists when past middle life, and never had a pastorate in our church, but did considerable itinerant preaching in Vermont, New York and adjoining States. He was quite active till the infirmities of age compelled a suspension of labors.

WILLIAM HENRY RYDER, D.D., died in Chicago, Ill., March 7, 1888, in his 66th year. He was born in Provincetown, Mass., July 18, 1822, of Universalist parents, his father, Capt. Godfrey Ryder, being prominent among the Universalists on the Cape. His academical training was at Pembroke, N. H., and his theological preparation for the ministry was at Clinton, N. Y. He was ordained at Concord, N. H., Oct. 11, 1843, where he was then pastor. In 1846 he took charge of the parish at Nashua; and on resigning his charge there made an extensive tour abroad, visiting Palestine, and spending seven months in study in Germany. On his return he took charge of the church at Roxbury, Mass., where he remained ten years, and in 1860 became pastor of St. Paul's Church, Chicago, holding the position with great advantage to that church and to our cause throughout the West, till 1882, when he resigned. Harvard College conferred on him the degree of A.M. in 1860, and Lombard University that of D.D. in 1863.

Dr. Ryder was an eminently successful preacher and pastor, the cause of true Christianity being greatly strengthened wherever he labored. "His example of fidelity to conviction, of patriotism, of interest in home and foreign missions and in reforms calculated to advance society, will continue to inspire our people." Greatly prospered in his financial investments, he remembered the church of his love in the final disposition of his affairs, making generous bequests to the General Convention, Lombard University, St. Paul's Church, Chicago, First Universalist Society, Provincetown, Mass., Illinois Universalist Convention, the Divinity Schools at St. Lawrence, Tufts and Lombard, Buchtel College, and the Universalist Publishing House. WALTER BULLARD died at Armenia, Bradford County, Penn., March 30, 1888, aged eighty-five. He was ordained to the work of the ministry in Saquoit, N. Y., Nov. 10, 1830, and was pastor at Augusta, Beaver Dams, Woodhull, New Berlin, Cortland and Elmira, N. Y., and subsequently was settled in several places in Pennsylvania. His health failing, he retired to a farm, and for many years preceding his death he had preached only occasionally.

JAMES DICKERSON LAUER died at Conover, Ohio, April 28, 1888, in his sixty-seventh year. He was born in Philadelphia, Penn., March 19, 1822, and began preaching in the fellowship of the Christian (New Light) Church, about 1843. He united with the Universalist Church at Eaton, Ohio, in October, 1870, and a month later received the fellowship of the Ohio Convention. After supplying several months at Eaton, he accepted a call from the church at Conover, and afterwards was pastor at Caledonia. For the last three years he has been in feeble health, "but maintained the integrity of his faith by a consistent walk and conversation, and commanded the respect of people of all denominations."

EDWIN THOMPSON died in East Walpole, Mass., May 22, 1888, aged seventy-eight. He was a native of Lynn, Mass., where his father was an active Quaker, and a pioneer in the anti-slavery agitation. The son early followed his father's example of interestedness in this great reform, and also became prominent in the temperance cause. He was several years the efficient agent of the old Massachusetts Temperance Society. Bigots opposed his re-election at one of the annual meetings, on account of his Universalism, and in the course of debate some one, speaking in praise of Mr. Thompson's work for the Society, said, "He is the main spoke in the wheel." Whereupon, Dr. Lyman Beecher, who was presiding, exclaimed: "Indeed, it seems to me that he has been the hub and all the spokes and a considerable part of the rim!" Mr. Thompson was ordained in 1841, and had charge of the Society at South Dedham, now Norwood. Always true to his faith, and preaching as opportunity offered, he devoted himself, after leaving his pastoral charge, to the advancement of the reforms. It was at his solicitation that Frederick Douglass began his career as a lecturer in 1885, becoming pastor of our church in Avon, Ill., where her success was marked. Miss Fleming was 'strong but tender, wise but winning, in all her ways. Her devotion to the Church was such as only a consecrated heart can feel. Her faith was precious to her as her life, and she gave herself wholly to the inculcations of it. Her sermons were of a high spiritual order.' Hers was a pure, true, faithful Christian spirit."

ORIN HUTCHINSON died in Carthage, N. Y., Aug. 18, 1888, aged about seventy-five. An active layman for many years, he had been licensed to preach since 1876. From 1837 to 1839 he was associated with the late Rev. A. B. Grosh in the publication of the "Magazine and Advocate," at Utica, N. Y. He resided many years in the city of New York, "where he was concerned as a publisher and agent for the sale of Universalist books. He was greatly interested in the progress of the cause of peace, being editorial correspondent of the American Peace Association." He was "a man of probity, and of genuine Christian experience and practice."

ORLANDO DANA MILLER, D.D., died at South Merrimac, N. H., Oct. 11, 1888, aged sixty-seven. He was born in Pomfret, Vt., and educated at the Military University at Norwich, Vt. He was ordained at Whiting, Vt., Jan. 26, 1848, having studied a short time with Rev. John Gregory. His pastoral settlements were East Middlebury, Vt., Republic, Ohio, Albany, N. Y., North Adams, Mass., Nashua and Alstead, N. H. He was a scholar whose fame extended to other lands, and was especially classed among the experts in Oriental studies. The Victoria Institute, the Philosophical Society of Great Britain, made him an honorary member, in recognition of his learning in this branch of letters, and several of his papers were published abroad. For several years he contributed valuable articles for the "Universalist Quarterly." He received, in course, the degree of A.M. from his Alma Mater, and in 1882 Tufts College, in recognition of his scholarship, gave him his degree of Doctor of Divinity. His health was greatly impaired and his days shortened by his devotion to study. "He goes down to the grave with the affection of a large circle of kindred, and the respect of all who came within the circle of his acquaintance. Peace and honor to his memory."
